

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
Foreword	xi
1 The developing role of the European Ombudsman Herwig C.H. Hofmann	1
2 The European Ombudsman: a resilient institution in a turbulent, evolving administrative order Jarle Trondal and Anchrit Wille	28
3 'Monitoring the law and independent from politics?' The relationship between the European Ombudsman and the European Parliament Christine Neuhold	53
4 Public awareness of EU rights and the functions of the European Ombudsman: some unpleasant findings George Tridimas and Takis Tridimas	74
5 Advancing transparency in the European Union: the role of the European Ombudsman Dacian C. Dragos and Bogdana Neamtu	94
6 Discretion and law in the EU administration: where the courts do not enter Joana Mendes	144
7 New perspectives for the European Ombudsman opened by the Lisbon Treaty Roberto Mastroianni	178
8 The European Ombudsman's role in promoting good governance Ian Harden	198
9 From maladministration to good administration: retrospective reflections on a ten-year journey P. Nikiforos Diamandouros	217

10	Variations around the O-word: the European Ombudsman from Médiateur to Garante ? Some concluding remarks Jacques Ziller	259
	Index	271