

Excursus 2 - Hirt's Law	136
1. History of research	136
2. Paradigmatic reconstruction	149
3. Reflection on the data	150
4. No-strict-oxytonesis hypothesis	156
5. Lubotsky's accent shift	157
6. Proposed solution	158
Excursus 3 - Winter's Law	159
1. Discovery and conditions of the operation	159
2. Rejection of Winter's Law	159
3. Mechanism of Winter's Law	163
4. Winter's Law in Albanian?	169
5. Summing up	169
6. Review of data	170
7. Proposed OT solution of Winter's Law	202
8. Explanation of further counterexamples	207
Chapter Five	218
Proto-Slavic Accentology
5.1. Introduction	218
5.2. Principles of Proto-Slavic accentology	219
5.3. Stang's Law	231
5.4. Accentuation of verbs	231
5.5. Acute and circumflex	234
5.6. Main accentological schools and streams	237
5.7. Fixing the stress due to the interaction of prosodic characteristics of morphemes	274
Excursus 4 - Compensatory lengthening in West Slavic	278
1. Introduction	278
2. Compensatory lengthening - theory and approaches	279
3. OT solution of CL	282
4. CL in Slavic - what we know about it	286
5. Proposed solution for CL	302
Chapter Six	307
Optimality Theory as a Solution for Some Accentual Phenomena
References	322