

Table of Contents

PREFACE

- 1 Language testing — is there another way?
Brendan J. Carroll
- 11 Criteria for evaluation of tests of English as a Foreign Language Alan Davies
- 17 The great reliability/validity trade-off:
problems in assessing the productive skills Nic Underbill
- 24 Examinations — why tolerate their paternalism? Peter Fabian
- 28 The Cambridge Examinations — an exercise in public relations W.G. Shephard
- 32 Proficiency testing for tertiary level study and training in Britain Ian Seaton
- 36 Progress testing: preparation and analysis
C.S. Ward
- 40 Tennis plays Nha — or how to humanise tests
John Rogers
- 43 An alternative approach to testing grammatical competence Pauline M. Rea
- 48 Dictation as a testing device S.F. Whitaker
- 52 Listening comprehension: teaching through testing techniques Penny Frantzis
- 56 Testing Spoken Language Keith Morrow
- 59 Questioning some assumptions about cloze testing Robert Keith Johnson
- 73 Getting information from advanced reading tests Paul Nation
- 77 Writing in perspective: some comments on the testing and marking of written communication Brian Heaton
- 81 Testing language with students of literature in ESL situations J.P. Boyle
- 86 A place for visuals in language testing Patricia L. McEldowney
- 92 Competence in English used for academic subject examinations Arthur Godman
- 97 Evaluation A.E.G. Pilliner
- 102 Measuring student achievement: some practical considerations Frank Chaplen
- 107 Appendix: Research
A comment on specific variance versus global variance in certain EFT tests John W. Oller Jr.

