

Contents

Preface for Students	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv

Part 1 Perspectives on Reading Instruction 2

1 Breaking with Tradition in Reading Instruction 4

This Book's Challenge to You	5
The Goals of This Book	8
What Makes Decision Making Difficult?	8
Current Instructional Practice in Reading	14
Becoming an Instructional Decision Maker	16

2 The Reading and Writing Curricula 26

What Is the Goal of Reading Instruction?	27
Whole Language as a Guide to Curriculum Building	28
Describing Reading	30
Relating Reading and Writing	36
Building a Reading Curriculum	36
Subgoals of Wholistic Reading Instruction	37
Integrating the Writing Curriculum	44
The Importance of Why	48

3 Learning and Student Diversity 54

Diversity as a Way of Life	55
Kinds of Diversity	55
"Voice" as a Key to Diversity	59
Nature of Meaningful Learning	59
Stages of Developmental Reading Growth	62
Expectancies and Student Diversity	66

4 Motivation and Instruction: What Philosophy, Approach or Method Should Be Used? 71

Properties of Instruction	72
Distinction between Direct and Indirect Instruction	75
Motivating	82

Managing the Academic Content of Reading	313
Ensuring Sustained Students Engagement	314
Steps in Creating a Management System	319

Part 4 Conducting Instruction at Various Grade Levels 327

16 Teaching Preschool and Kindergarten Reading: Emergent Literacy Stage 328

Overview of Preschool and Kindergarten Reading	328
Developing Attitude Goals	331
Teaching Process Goals	335
Developing Content Goals	347
Integrating Reading and Writing	350
Characteristics of an Instructional Day	351

17 Teaching Primary Grade Reading: Initial Mastery Stage 361

Overview of Primary Grade Reading	361
Developing Attitude Goals	364
Teaching Process Goals	368
Developing Content Goals	389
Integrating Reading and Writing	393
Characteristics of an Instructional Day	398

18 Teaching Middle Grade Reading: Expanded Fundamentals Stage 403

Overview of Middle Grade Reading	403
Developing Attitude Goals	404
Teaching Process Goals	411
Developing Content Goals	422
Integrating Reading and Writing	427
Characteristics of an Instructional Day	434

19 Teaching Upper Grade Reading: Application Stage 439

Overview of Upper Grade Reading	439
Developing Attitude Goals	441
Teaching Process Goals	447
Developing Content Goals	456
Integrating Reading and Writing	462
Characteristics of an Instructional Day	467

Part 5 Continued Professional Growth 473

20	Continued Professional Growth	474
	Assessment Plan	475
	Professional Development Plan	476
	Resources for Improvement	478
	Monitoring and Evaluating Progress	480
	Importance of Personal Growth	482
	Facing the Realities	483

Glossary 491

Index 499