

CONTENTS

Foreword by Joel A. Tarr vii

Introduction: An Environmental Historian Amid the
Thickets of Environmental Politics xiii

I. The Big Issues

The Limits-to-Growth Issue: A Historical Perspective 3

Value Premises for Planning and Public Policy:
The Historical Context 24

Public Values and Management Response 41

The Role of Urbanization in Environmental History 69

The Future of Environmental Regulation 101

II. Forest Debates

The New Environmental Forest 131

The New Environmental West 156

A Challenge to the Profession of Forestry 172

Foreword to Frederick Frankena,
Strategies of Expertise in Technical Controversies 185

Human Choice in the Great Lakes Wildlands 198

III. The Politics of Clean Air

Clean Air: From the 1970 Act to the 1977 Amendments 221

Clean Air: From 1977 to 1990	248
Emissions Trading Mythology	280
The Role of Values in Science and Policy: The Case of Lead	291

IV. Environmental Politics Since World War II

The Structure of Environmental Politics Since World War II	315
Three Decades of Environmental Politics: The Historical Context	334
A Historical Perspective on Contemporary Environmentalism	379
Environmental Political Culture and Environmental Political Development: An Analysis of Legislative Voting, 1971–1989	400
The Politics of Environmental Administration	418
Notes	451
Index	573