

Contents

What is politics?	4
Who's in charge?	8
What is a government?	10
Chapter 1: All kinds of governments	13
How societies have run themselves from Ancient Athens and Rome, to China, Europe and the birth of the United States of America
Chapter 2: Political systems	29
How does democracy actually work? How do countries get things done? And what about the alternatives – dictatorship, communism and even total anarchy?
Chapter 3: Elections and voting	55
Who can vote? Who can't? And is there a way to count all the votes up that's fair to everyone?
Chapter 4: Political change	71
How can people influence their governments in between elections – or in countries where elections don't happen at all?
Chapter 5: Political ideologies	81
What are the big ideas that politicians use to decide how to run a country? What's the difference between 'left' and 'right' in politics, and why does it matter? How can you work out where YOU are on the political spectrum?

Chapter 6: Big questions

95

Sometimes what matters most isn't who's in charge, or what they stand for, but what they're actually going to do to fix the world's problems...

Is there such a thing as 'human rights'?	96
Can war ever be justified?	98
Why are some countries poor?	100
What is terrorism?	102
What is prison for?	104
What is freedom of speech?	106
How does the media affect politics?	108
What is immigration?	110
Am I a feminist?	112
Who's responsible for the planet?	114
Is corruption inevitable?	115
How to argue	116
Learn to debate	118
What next?	119
Glossary	120
Index	124
Acknowledgements	128