

CONTENTS

List of figures	page ix
List of box	x
List of tables	xi
Foreword by Gareth Evans	xii
Acknowledgements	xviii

Introduction	1
--------------	---

PART I An international organisation for keeping the peace 27

- 1 Pacific settlement, collective security and international peacekeeping 29
- 2 Peace operations and the UN-US relationship 56

PART II Soft security perspectives 77

- 3 Human security and human rights 79
- 4 International criminal justice 108
- 5 International sanctions 135

PART III Hard security issues 163

- 6 The nuclear threat 165
- 7 International terrorism 195
- 8 Kosovo 1999 and Iraq 2003 as unilateral interventions 223
- 9 Afghanistan, Libya and Syria: UN-authorised interventions and non-intervention 246

10	From humanitarian intervention to R2P: cosmetic or consequential?	272
11	The development and evolution of R2P as international policy	301
	PART IV Institutional developments	327
12	Reforming the United Nations	329
13	The political role of the United Nations Secretary-General	357
	Conclusion: at the crossroads of ideals and reality	384
	Index	413