

Contents

Preface	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Table of cases	xii
1 The concept of international organization	1
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 Defining international organizations	7
1.3 Legal dynamics	11
2 The legal existence of international organizations	16
2.1 Introduction	16
2.2 International legal personality	17
2.3 Powers	22
2.4 Constitutions	26
2.5 Privileges and immunities	30
2.6 Dissolution, succession, adaptation	35
2.7 The nature of international organizations	37
3 International organizations and their members	39
3.1 Introduction	39
3.2 Admission	41
3.3 Financing	45
3.4 Withdrawal	48
3.5 Expulsion, suspension and related techniques	51
3.6 State succession and membership	53
4 Standard-setting by international organizations	57
4.1 Introduction	57
4.2 Law-making strictly (and not so strictly) speaking	58
4.3 Administration	60
4.4 Household matters	63
4.5 Recommendations	64
4.6 Sponsoring conventions	67

5	Organs and their decisions	71
5.1	Introduction	71
5.2	Creating subsidiary organs	73
5.3	Delegation	76
5.4	The international civil service	77
5.5	Towards secondary law?	80
6	Accountability	83
6.1	Introduction	83
6.2	Responsibility becomes an issue	84
6.3	Articles on the Responsibility of International Organizations (ARIO)	88
6.4	Alternative attempts	92
6.5	Skipping legal obligation?	96
6.6	Self-control	98
7	External relations	100
7.1	Introduction	100
7.2	Mixity	103
7.3	Inter-organizational relations	106
7.4	Public-private partnerships	111
8	Re-thinking the law of international organizations	113
	Bibliography	119
	Index	127