

The continuation of Andris Nelsons's much-admired Bruckner cycle with the Gewandhausorchester. Here they play the Seventh Symphony – premiered in 1884 by this orchestra and now recorded live to mark its 275th anniversary and Nelsons's inauguration as Kapellmeister. "Under Nelsons the Leipzig Gewandhausorchester is clearly at the very top of its form, savouring its great Bruckner tradition to sonorous effect." – BR Klassik (reviewing the first release in this series, Bruckner's Third Symphony).
