

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	x
PART I INTRODUCTION
1 Expanding human rights Alison Brysk	3
PART II EXPANDING ACTORS
2 A struggle for recognition and rights: expanding LGBT activism Phillip M. Ayoub	13
3 How do global human rights expand?: A case of Japan's Burakumin going global Kiyoteru Tsutsui	35
4 Indigenous peoples: from objects of protection to subjects of rights Felipe Gómez Isa	55
PART III EXPANDING CLAIMS
5 Expanding rights: new frames for violence against women Alison Brysk	77
6 The human right to water and sanitation: champions and challengers in the fight for new rights acceptance Madeline Baer	94
7 Human rights and corporate social responsibility Michael Stohl and Cynthia Stohl	115

PART IV EXPANDING MECHANISMS

- 8 Forging alternative routes to norms change: economic rights
protagonists 139
Shareen Hertel
- 9 Expanding rights: norm innovation in the European and Inter-American courts 156
Wayne Sandholtz
- 10 Feminist foreign policy as state-led expansion of human rights 177
Valerie M. Hudson

PART V EXPANDING RESPONSIBILITIES

- 11 Janus-faced: rebel groups and human rights responsibility 197
Hyeran Jo and Joshua Alley
- 12 Expanding responsibilities: the consequences of World Bank and IMF policies on child welfare 215
Clair Apodaca
- 13 Human rights contraction: sovereignty and denial of the right to food 236
Rhoda E. Howard-Hassmann

PART VI CONCLUSION

- 14 Conclusions on norms, institutions and processes 255
Michael Stohl
- Index* 263