

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
INTRODUCTION	1
1. OVERVIEW	9
The Racial Contract is political, moral and epistemological	9
The Racial Contract is a historical actuality	19
The Racial Contract is an exploitation contract	31
2. DETAILS	41
The Racial Contract norms (and races) space	41
The Racial Contract norms (and races) the individual	53
The Racial Contract underwrites the modern social contract	62
The Racial Contract has to be enforced through violence and ideological conditioning	81
3. "NATURALIZED" MERITS	91
The Racial Contract historically tracks the actual moral/ political consciousness of (most) white moral agents	91
The Racial Contract has always been recognized by nonwhites as the real moral/political agreement to be challenged	109
The "Racial Contract" as a theory is explanatorily superior to the raceless social contract	120
NOTES	135
INDEX	163