

Contents

Foreword – Edward S. Casey	viii
Acknowledgements	xv
Introduction: the influence of place	1
1 The obscurity of place	23
2 The structure of spatiality	48
3 Holism, content, and self	81
4 Unity, locality, and agency	102
5 Agency and objectivity	119
6 Self and the space of others	144
7 The unity and complexity of place	161
8 Place, past, and person	179
9 Place and world	200
Conclusion: topography and the place of philosophy	212
Glossary	217
Bibliography	221
Index	237