

CONTENTS

	Preface to Library of Japan Edition by Albert Craig	vii
	Preface to the 1899 Edition	xiii
	Acknowledgment	xv
I	Childhood	1
II	I Set Out to Learn Dutch in Nagasaki	21
III	I Make My Way to Ōsaka	39
IV	Student Ways at Ogata School	58
V	I Go to Yedo; I Learn English	93
VI	I Join the First Mission to America	104
VII	I Go to Europe	124
VIII	I Return to Anti-Foreign Japan	141
IX	I Visit America Again	166
X	A Non-Partisan in the Restoration; The Growth of a Private School	178
XI	The Risk of Assassination	225
XII	Further Steps Toward a Liberal Age	239
XIII	My Personal and Household Economy	261
XIV	My Private Life; My Family	290

XV	A Final Word on the Good Life	307
	Notes	337
	Afterword by Albert Craig
	Fukuzawa Yukichi: The Philosophical
	Foundations of Meiji Nationalism	373