

Contents

Table of Cases	ix
Table of Legislation and other Instruments	xiii
1 French Constitutional History: A Difficult Coming of Age	1
The Constitutional 'Big-Bang': The Revolution of 1789	2
The Difficult Implementation of Constitutionalism	7
Understanding French Constitutional History	19
Conclusion: The Merger of Constitutional Traditions?	27
2 In Search of the Constitutional Fundamentals	29
The Legitimacy of the 1958 Constitution	29
The Integrity of the 1958 Constitution	43
The Efficiency of the 1958 Constitution: The Political System	50
Conclusion: Something Old, Something New	54
3 The Primacy of the Executive	56
The Origins – The Search for a Strong Executive	57
The President of the Republic: From Strength to Strength	58
A Contested Bicephalous Executive	63
The Difficult Accountability of the Executive	79
Conclusion	93
4 Towards a Renewal of the Parliament	95
A Return to Institutional Autonomy?	96
The Constitutional Status of Members of Parliament	110
Parliament's Work: A Great Improvement	115
Conclusion: Further Reform?	138
5 The Rise of Judicial Power	141
The Search for Judicial Independence	142
The Rise of the Conseil constitutionnel	150
Towards a Judicial Power?	173
Conclusion	179

6	The Constitution and its People	181
	The French People and the Constitution	182
	The Sovereign Expression of the French People	188
	A Culture of Rights Protection	200
	Conclusion: A 'New' Citizen?	204
7	From Centralised Unity to Multilevel Constitutionalism	206
	The Rise of Territorial Government	207
	Keeping a Check on the European Union	219
	Conclusion	234
8	The Dynamics of Constitutional Change	236
	The Amendment Procedure: A Question of Choice?	237
	The Dynamics of Constitutional Change	243
	The Trends for Constitutional Reform	249
	Conclusion	253
	Index	255