

Contents

Introduction: The Social Scientific Study of Atheism and Secularity Phil Zuckerman	vii
Chapter 1: What Is Atheism? Jack David Eller	1
Chapter 2: Atheism, Secularity, the Family, and Children Christel Manning	19
Chapter 3: A Portrait of Secular Group Affiliates Frank L. Pasquale	43
Chapter 4: Sexuality and the Secular Thomas J. Linneman and Margaret A. Clendenen	89
Chapter 5: Morality and Immorality among the Irreligious Benjamin Beit-Hallahmi	113
Chapter 6: The Evolution of Popular Religiosity and Secularism: How First World Statistics Reveal Why Religion Exists, Why It Has Been Popular, and Why the Most Successful Democracies Are the Most Secular Gregory S. Paul	149
Chapter 7: Atheism, Secularity, and Gender Inger Furseth	209
Chapter 8: Freethinkers and Hell Raisers: The Brief History of American Atheism and Secularism Daniel Cady	229

Chapter 9: Defining Religion and Modifying Religious "Bodies":
 Secularizing the Sacred and Sacralizing the Secular
Jay Demerath III 251

Index 271

About the Editor and Contributors 279

Contents

Chapter 1: What is Religion? 1

Chapter 2: Religion, Secularity, and Gender 25

Chapter 3: A Portrait of Secular Christianity 45

Chapter 4: Secularization and the Secular 65

Chapter 5: Moralistic and Instrumental Views of Religion 85

Chapter 6: The Evolution of Popular Religion and Secularization 105

Chapter 7: American Secularity and Gender 125

Chapter 8: Postmodernism and the Secular 145

Chapter 9: Defining Religion and Modifying Religious "Bodies":
 Secularizing the Sacred and Sacralizing the Secular 165

Index 185

About the Editor and Contributors 195