
Spotlight

10

Defining sustainable good practice

New industry guidelines released by the IHA

Asia

12

Platform for participation

Hydropower: Caspian and Central Asia is to be held from 20-21 February in Georgia

14

Asian activities

A roundup of recent developments across Asia

18

Engaging the community at Baleh

At the Baleh project in Malaysia, developer Sarawak Energy engages with local communities

Construction

20

Lifting a project

The role of cranes and hoists

Dam safety

24

Portfolio-wide assessment

The US Government Accountability Office reviews dam safety procedures undertaken by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission

26

Plain sailing - or choppy waters ahead?

In order to safeguard future reservoir safety, the UK needs to find new ways of increasing the numbers of inspecting engineers. New research looks at possible future scenarios

28

Discovering Turkish delights

Hasan Tosun reports on the Fifth International Symposium on Dam Safety which was recently held in Istanbul

30

At what cost?

Dam safety upgrade costs may be passed onto water users who benefit from irrigation schemes across Queensland in Australia

Environment

32

Multipurpose Peruvian projects

Experience from the Peruvian Andes has shown how multipurpose projects can be used for integrative water resources management

36

ICOLD gets technical about climate change

An insight into the work being carried out by ICOLD's technical committee on climate change.

38

The value of dams

Has the value of dams been overestimated?

Investment

40

Sharing hydro locally

New study from the IFC focuses on local shares in hydro in Nepal

42

Green gets the green

Hydro set to benefit from new green financing initiatives from international banks