

■ IN BRIEF	5	A gloomy IMF forecast; IBM bounces back; Harris 2020
■ AGENDA	6	Trump's SOTU (maybe); Apple and Facebook earnings
■ OPINION	6	To succeed with Kim, the president needs a new approach
■ REMARKS	8	The Trumpiest of all shutdowns
1 BUSINESS	12 14	Brexit may put a leash on BrewDog's growth Big Pharma takes aim at the high cost of drug trials
2 TECHNOLOGY	16 20 21	We were promised flying cars. Can Japan deliver? Cycle-tracking apps cash in on women's private data "X-ray specs" for surgeons
3 FINANCE	22 24 24	Some index fund investors get passive-aggressive A raft of big IPOs could roil an already choppy market Colleges love scooter startups, but not scooters
4 ECONOMICS	26 28 29	China's economic numbers add up. No, really, they do U.S. brands brace for a consumer slowdown in China A credit crackdown pressures China's small businesses
5 POLITICS	32 34	How Angela Merkel lost her grip Low oil prices threaten stability in the Middle East
+ SOLUTIONS	36	▼ East German kicks for modern sneakerheads

	38	Tips on testing new products from Killer Snails
	39	Golden State Cider gets an assist from the Warriors
■ PURSUITS	55 60 62 63	To find the freshest take on U.S. dining, leave New York CBD won't get you high, but it could get you well Black Monday offers little return for your investment B&O's Besound Edge sounds great anywhere
■ LAST THING	64	A railroad legend's vision for the industry becomes reality

■ DEBRIEF

40

CEO Grant Reid says cats and dogs can help Mars double its revenue

---

FEATURES

44

What Happens When You Try to Sue Your Boss

Abandon all hope, ye who enter arbitration

50

Ride at Your Own Risk

A near-death experience may change how you feel about ride-hailing apps