

CONTENTS

PART V
6	Fitness and physical activity: a new paradigm for physical education	Malcolm Thorburn 277
7	Complexity, curriculum, and the design of learning systems	Alan Ovens & Joy Butler 182
8	Globalized curriculum: scaling sport pedagogy themes for research	Catherine D. Ennis 292
PART III
Curriculum policy and reform
9	Policy and possibilities	Dawn Penney xii
		Dawn Penney xiii
		xiv
		xviii
11	Reforming curricula from the inside-in to establish positive learning environments	Dawn Penney & Stephen Mitchell 1
PART I
Designing and conducting physical education research		7
1	The research enterprise in physical education	9
	Thomas J. Templin & K. Andrew R. Richards
2	Interpretive and critical research: a view through a qualitative lens	21
	Amelia Mays Woods & Kim C. Graber
PART II
Curriculum theory and development		35
3	Designing effective programs: creating curriculum to enhance student learning	39
	Donetta J. Cothran
4	Models-based practice	54
	Ashley Casey

5	Sport-based physical education Peter A. Hastie & Isabel Mesquita	68
6	Fitness and physical activity curriculum Malcolm Thorburn	85
7	Complexity, curriculum, and the design of learning systems Alan Ovens & Joy Butler	97
8	Globalized curriculum: scaling sport pedagogy themes for research Catherine D. Ennis	112
PART III
	Curriculum policy and reform	127
9	Policy and possibilities Dawn Penney	131
10	Curriculum reform and policy cohesion in physical education Mike Jess & Shirley Gray	143
11	Reforming curricula from the outside-in Dawn Penney & Stephen Mitchell	157
12	Curriculum reform where it counts Kirsten Petrie	173
13	Equity and inequity amidst curriculum reform Shaun D. Wilkinson	187
PART IV
	Adapted physical activity	201
14	Theory and practice in adapted physical education: the disability rights paradigm in synchrony with complex systems concepts Eliane Mauerberg-deCastro	205
15	Advances in disability and motor behavior research Rosa Angulo-Barroso & Teri Todd	223
16	An international perspective in physical education and professional preparation in adapted physical education and adapted physical activity Eliane Mauerberg-deCastro, Aija Klavina, Martin Kudláček, Cindy Sit & Serap Inal	241

- 17 Inclusive settings in adapted physical activity: a worldwide reality? 262
Lauren J. Lieberman & Martin Block

PART V

Transformative pedagogies in physical education 277

- 18 Transformative pedagogies and physical education: exploring the possibilities for personal change and social change 281
Richard Tinning

- 19 Transformative aspirations and realities in physical education teacher education (PETE) 295
Alan Ovens

- 20 Transformative pedagogies for challenging body culture in physical education 307
Kimberly L. Oliver & David Kirk

- 21 Gender sexuality and physical education 319
Katie Fitzpatrick & Eimear Enright

- 22 The transformative possibilities of narrative inquiry 332
Fiona Dowling & Robyne Garrett

- 23 Shifting stories of size: critical obesity scholarship as transformative pedagogy for disrupting weight-based oppression in physical education 343
Erin Cameron, Moss Norman & LeAnne Petherick

- 24 Transformative pedagogy in physical education and the challenges of young people with migration backgrounds 356
Dean Barker & Suzanne Lundvall

PART VI

Analyzing teaching 369

- 25 Teacher accountability and effective teaching in physical education 373
Bryan A. McCullick, Karen Lux Gaudreault & Nilo C. Ramos

- 26 Measurement of teaching in physical education 387
Prithwi Raj Subramaniam & Deborah A. Wuest

- 27 Teaching about active lifestyles 399
Lorraine Cale

PART VII
Educating teachers 'effectively' from PETE to CPD		413
28	The role of learning theory in learning to teach Mikael Quennerstedt & Ninitha Maivorsdotter	417
29	Effective physical education teacher education: a principled position perspective Louise McCuaig & Eimear Enright	428
30	What research tells us about effective continuing professional development for physical education teachers Melissa Parker & Kevin Patton	447
31	Educating teachers in health pedagogies Leen Haerens, Nathalie Aelterman, An De Meester & Isabel Tallir	461
32	Educating teachers for effective inclusive pedagogies Kyriaki Makopoulou & Gary Thomas	473
PART VIII
The role of student and teacher cognition in student learning		485
33	Student cognition: understanding how students learn in physical education Melinda A. Solmon	489
34	Student physical self-concept beliefs Alex C. Garn	503
35	Student attitudes and perspectives Collin A. Webster	518
36	Teacher beliefs and efficacy Pamela Hodges Kulinna & Donetta J. Cothran	530
37	The emotional dimensions of physical education teacher knowledge Nate McCaughtry & Matthew Ferry	541
38	The nature and consequences of obesity bias in physical education: implications for teaching Weidong Li	554

PART IX

Achievement motivation 565

39 Motivation research in physical education: learning to become motivated 567
Ang Chen

40 Expectancy-value based motivation for learning 581
Ping Xiang

41 Maximizing student motivation in physical education: a self-determination theory perspective 594
C. K. John Wang

42 Individual and situational interest 607
Bo Shen

43 Adaptation and maladaptation of achievement goals in physical education 619
Sami Yli-Piipari

44 Motivation as a learning strategy 631
Haichun Sun

Index 647