

Contents

- List of Maps, viii
List of Contributors, ix
Note on Transliteration, xi
Preface, xiii

Introduction

MORRIS ROSSABI

1

PART I

China in Disarray

ONE

*Diplomacy for Survival:
Domestic and Foreign Relations of Wu Yüeh, 907–978*

EDMUND H. WORTHY, JR.

17

PART II

The Sung Dynasty in a Multi-State System

TWO

The Rhetoric of a Lesser Empire: Early Sung Relations with Its Neighbors

WANG GUNGWU

47

THREE

*Barbarians or Northerners:
Northern Sung Images of the Khitans*

TAO JING-SHEN

66

PART III

Institutions for Foreign Relations in the Multi-State System

FOUR

Sung Foreign Trade: Its Scope and Organization

SHIBA YOSHINOBU

89

FIVE

Sung Embassies: Some General Observations

HERBERT FRANKE

116

PART IV

Foreign Lands and the Sung

SIX

*National Consciousness in Medieval Korea:
The Impact of Liao and Chin on Koryō*

MICHAEL C. ROGERS

151

SEVEN

Tibetan Relations with Sung China and with the Mongols

LUCIANO PETECH

173

EIGHT

Old Illusions and New Realities: Sung Foreign Policy, 1217-1234

CHARLES A. PETERSON

204

PART V

The Mongol Hegemony

NINE

The Yüan Dynasty and the Uighurs of Turfan in the 13th Century

THOMAS T. ALLSEN

243

TEN

*Turks in China under the Mongols:
A Preliminary Investigation of Turco-Mongol Relations in the 13th and 14th Centuries*

IGOR DE RACHEWILTZ

281

PART VI

China's Foreign Relations in Historical Context

ELEVEN

Yin and Yang in the China-Manchuria-Korea Triangle

GARI LEDYARD

313

Glossary of Chinese Characters, 355

List of Abbreviations, 373

Bibliography, 377

Index, 409