

Contents

Preface	9
Contributors	13
1 International classification of functionality as the base for the arrangement of inclusive education and special needs assessment	15
2 Analysis of the essential areas of the field of reference for early care / intervention in the Czech Republic	27
3 The support of early development for children with visual impairment through modern devices	41
4 The comparison of early intervention in Armenia and the Czech Republic	67
5 To the issue of early intervention of children with autism into the system of inclusive education and learning	73
6 The role of psychologist in the early intervention of children with multiple and severe disorders	81
7 Issues and features of organization of inclusive education in Armenia	87
8 Armenia inclusive education experience	93
9 Enhancing inclusion of children with communication difficulties through Alternative Communication strategies (Armenian experience)	101
10 On the problem of impressive speech development at the early age	113
11 Micro-social environment as a factor of resocialization of people with aphasia	117
12 Cognitive function, language, speech and aging	127
13 Research on Dyslexia in Higher Education: implementation of the Czech Republic experience in Armenia	135

The Scientific Publication Summary	145
Bibliography	147
Index	161
About the authors	165