

Contents

List of Figures	xvii
Abbreviations	xix
Foreword (by Director Byun Young-joo)	xxi
Introduction: Introducing “Planet Hallyuwood”	1
PART I
The Golden Age of the 1960s	17
1 Hypergrowth of the Propaganda Factory and the Producing Paradox	19
2 At the Crossroads of Directing and Politics	42
3 Genre Intersections and the Literary Film	62
4 Feasting on Asian Alliances: Hong Kong Co-productions and Japanese Remakes	81
PART II
The Dark Age of the 1970s and Hollywood’s Domination in the Aftermath	105
5 Policy and Producing under Hollywood’s Shadow in the 1970s and 1980s	107
6 Robust Invalids in a New Visual Era: Directing in the 1970s and 1980s	127

- 7 Weapons of Mass Distraction: The Erotic Film Genres of the 1970s and 1980s 141

PART III

The Golden Age of the Post-censorship Era 155

- 8 The Rise of the New Corporate and Female Producers 157
- 9 The Rise of the Female Writer-Director and the Changing Face of Korean Cinema 182
- 10 Genre Transformations in Contemporary Korean Cinema 207
- 11 Korean Transnational Cinema and the Renewed Tilt Toward China 227
- Conclusion: Welcome to Planet Hallyuwood 251

Bibliography 259

Index 271