

Contents

Preface	page 7
Summary of Contents of Volumes I and III	11
Introduction	13
1. The Dimensions of Poverty
The Relativity of Poverty—Poverty and Employment—Poverty and Income—A Typology of Poverty—The Urban Programme.	21
2. Housing
The Nature of Housing Policies—The Special Characteristics of Housing—Housing Tenure—Public Sector Policies—Management of ‘Comprehensive Policies’—The Function of Council Housing—‘Grading’ of Council Tenants—Owner Occupation—Private Landlordism—The ‘Voluntary’ Sector.	38
3. Slum Clearance and Improvement
Public Policies—The Process of Clearance—Private Re-development—Demand for Inner City Private Housing—Improvement.	69
4. Race and Colour
Discrimination—Employment—Education—Housing—Council Housing—Privately Rented Housing—Owner Occupation—Dispersal—‘Records’ of Coloured People—Positive Policies.	90
5. Social Planning
The Social Aims of Planning—New Communities—Social Provision—The Social Development Plan—Monitoring Social Policy—Deprived Areas: The Development of Thinking—Deprived Areas: The Development of Policy—Social Polarization—The Nature of Social Planning.	122
6. Planning in a Democratic Society
Planning as a Process—Public Pressure and Government Action—Government Action Without Public Support—

Citizen-Participation—The Skeffington Report—Participation and Consultation—New Style Public Inquiries—The Tempo of Change—The Role of Research—Cost-Benefit Analysis—Economic Growth and the Environment—The Framework for Citizen-participation. 156

Index 189