

Contents

| | | |
|----------------------|---|-----|
| Introduction: | In Search of Postmodern Reason | 1 |
| 1 | Morality without Ethics Society: the operation cover-up • Facing the unfaceable • Weaving the veil • The veil pierced • The veil torn up • Morality uncovered • Ethical laws, moral standards | 10 |
| 2 | Forms of Togetherness Being-aside, being-with, being-for • Convention and commitment • The unbearable uncertainty of being-for • The good is in the future | 44 |
| 3 | Broken Lives, Broken Strategies Breaking out, into prison • Acceleration and its discontents: 'quality of life' • Acceleration and its discontents: 'identity' • Modern life as pilgrimage • The world inhospitable to pilgrims • The pilgrim's successors • What chance of morality? What chance of polity? | 72 |
| 4 | A Catalogue of Postmodern Fears Fears of Panopticon • From purveyors of goods to sensations-gatherers • From health to fitness • The body under siege • From handling to tasting | 105 |
| 5 | The Stranger Revisited – and Revisiting Two strategies of living with strangers • The stranger, as seen by the flâneur • The stranger ante portas • The stranger, Janus-faced | 126 |

| | | |
|----------|--|-----|
| 6 | Violence, Postmodern | 139 |
| | The drifting frontier • The ways and means of separating deeds and morals • Adiaphorization, the postmodern version • Violence, do-it-yourself style • An inconclusive conclusion | |
| 7 | Tribal Moralities | 163 |
| | 7.1 The Body as Task | 163 |
| | Guarding the frontiers of civilization • Border control privatized | |
| | 7.2 Racism, Anti-racism and Moral Progress | 179 |
| | The administration of strangers • Moral progress? • The new world disorder, or respacing the world • Insecurity and cruelty | |
| | 7.3 A Century of Camps? | 192 |
| | Modernizing cruelty | |
| | 7.4 'Antisemitism' Reassessed | 206 |
| | Jews are unlike the others • Jews mean the impossibility of order • Changing times, changing places | |
| 8 | Morality and Politics | 223 |
| | 8.1 Intellectuals in the Postmodern World | 223 |
| | Modern origins of the intellectuals • The 'intelligentsia' of the civilizational periphery • Estrangement and engagement • The social dislocation of intellectuals • Towards a recomposition? | |
| | 8.2 Europe of Nations, Europe of Tribes | 243 |
| | 8.3 An Epilogue: Threats and Chances, Old and New | 256 |
| | The story so far . . . • . . . and the beginning of a new story • The chances of moral togetherness • The new community? • Between hope and despair • New ethics in search of new politics • Can we do it? Will we do it? | |
| | Index | 289 |