

■ IN BRIEF	7	Brexit or bust for Johnson; Bayer's weedkiller woes grow
■ AGENDA	8	Dems hit the midway in Iowa; China reports on trade
■ OPINION	8	Countering Iran at sea will require an international effort
■ REMARKS	10	Big Media wants in on Netflix's turf. There will be blood
1 BUSINESS	14 16 18	Fantasy runs into troubling reality at Victoria's Secret Brazil's Natura is calling on Avon to help take it global Oatly's path to alt-milk world domination
2 TECHNOLOGY	20 22	Jess Lee carves out a space in the male world of VC Capturing carbon with "a tree that grows like grass"
3 FINANCE	24 26 27	Turmoil at South Africa's state-owned money manager The end is near for the strong-dollar policy. Well, maybe CEO Adena Friedman on moving Nasdaq beyond trading
4 ECONOMICS	28 29 31	Inequality as an investment play is over The surprising resilience of small liberal arts colleges China's Gen Z falls hard for easy credit
5 POLITICS	32	▼ A Q&A with Mexican President López Obrador

	34	PredictIt has opened up a big lead in 2020 election betting
■ PURSUITS	51 55 56 58 59	Expedition cruises offer luxury—and cultural complexity Elegant water pitchers from $20 to a cool $9,650 Porsche or no, the 1939 Type 64 will fetch a pretty penny The African American story is an American story Play like the devil on a guitar built with wood from a church
■ LAST THING	60	Ultralow interest rates are good news/bad news for states

FEATURES

36

Conflict Zone

A Minneapolis plan to make housing more affordable has residents riled up

42

Who Will Speak for the Pangolin?

Demand for its scales in Asia is pushing the rare mammal toward extinction

46

Lance Armstrong Rides Again

The former cyclist's ambitious strategy to un-disgrace himself after a doping ban