

---

Contents

---

List of illustrations	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Author biographical sketches	xi
Introduction: The healing dimension of restorative justice: a one-world body Dennis Sullivan and Larry Tiff	1
Section I: Restorative justice processes and practices	17
1 The recent history of restorative justice: mediation, circles, and conferencing Paul McCold	23
2 Victim offender mediation: an evolving evidence-based practice Mark S. Umbreit, Robert B. Coates and Betty Vos	52
3 Victim offender mediation and restorative justice: the European landscape Christa Pelikan and Thomas Trenczek	63
4 Conferencing and restorative justice Gabrielle Maxwell, Allison Morris and Hennessey Hayes	91
5 Restorative justice and recidivism: promises made, promises kept? James Bonta, Rebecca Jesseman, Tanya Ruge and Robert Cormier	108
6 Peacemaking circles: reflections on principal features and primary outcomes Barry Stuart and Kay Pranis	121
7 The limits of restorative justice Kathleen Daly	134

---

Section II: The foundations of restorative justice	147
8 Navajo peacemaking: original dispute resolution and a life way James W. Zion and Robert Yazzie	151
9 The African concept of ubuntu and restorative justice Dirk J. Louw	161
10 Spiritual foundations of restorative justice Michael L. Hadley	174
11 Empathy and restoration Hal Pepinsky	188
12 Sanctuary as a refuge from state justice Peter Cordella	198
Section III: The needs of victims and the healing process	207
13 Responding to the needs of victims: what was promised, what has been delivered Mary Achilles and Lorraine Stutzman-Amstutz	211
14 Restoration of the assumptive world as an act of justice Jeffrey Kauffman	221
15 Murder victims' families for reconciliation: story-telling for healing, as witness, and in public policy Judith W. Kay	230
16 Hearing the victim's voice amidst the cry for capital punishment James R. Acker	246
17 The other victims: the families of those punished by the state Judith Brink	261
Section IV: Making things right: extending restorative justice	269
18 Changing boundaries of the 'victim' in restorative justice: so who is the victim now? Sandra Walklate	273
19 Stopping domestic violence or protecting children? Contributions from restorative justice Joan Pennell	286

20	Are there limits to restorative justice? The case of child sexual abuse Anne-Marie McAlinden	299
21	Restoring justice through forgiveness: the case of children in Northern Ireland Anthony C. Holter, Joseph Martin, and Robert D. Enright	311
22	Restorative justice in transition: ownership, leadership, and 'bottom-up' human rights Kieran McEvoy and Anna Eriksson	321
Section V: Gross human rights violations and transitional justice		337
23	Essential elements of healing after massive trauma: complex needs voiced by victims/survivors Yael Danieli	343
24	Exploring the relationship between reparations, the gross violation of human rights, and restorative justice Chris Cunneen	355
25	Truth and reconciliation in Serbia Vesna Nikolic-Ristanovic	369
26	Transitional justice, restoration, and prosecution Charles Villa-Vicencio	387
27	Restorative justice and the governance of security in the Southwest Pacific Sinclair Dinnen	401
28	Rwanda's failing experiment in restorative justice Lars Waldorf	422
Section VI: Critical commentaries on restorative justice		435
29	Restorative justice and the criminological enterprise David O. Friedrichs	439
30	Shame, sharing and restorative justice: a critical appraisal Nathan Harris and Shadd Maruna	452
31	Community justice versus restorative justice: contrasts in family of value Todd R. Clear	463
32	Postmodernism's challenges to restorative justice Bruce A. Arrigo	472

33	A feminist vision of justice? The problems and possibilities of restorative justice for girls and women Emily Gaarder and Lois Presser	483
Section VII: Transformative justice and structural change		495
34	Toward a 'radical' paradigm of restorative justice David G. Gil	499
35	Environmental policy and management in Costa Rica: sustainable development and deliberative democracy Edward J. Martin	512
36	Reaching toward a structurally responsive training and practice of restorative justice David Dyck	527
37	The Good Samaritan or the person in the ditch? An attempt to live a restorative justice lifestyle Fred Boehrer	546
38	Transformative justice: the transformation of restorative justice M. Kay Harris	555
	Index	567