

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	xi

Introduction: Constitutional challenges, reform, and acceleration	1
PAUL BLOKKER

PART I

Reflections on constitutional change in times of acceleration	23
--	-----------

1 Towards participatory constitutionalism? Comparative European lessons	25
FRANCESCO PALERMO

2 (Not) fast and (not) furious? (Un)constitutional responsiveness and the boundaries of constituent imagination	48
ZORAN OKLOPCIC

3 The multifaceted sovereign: Domestic and international actors in constitutional regime change	73
ANDREW ARATO AND GÁBOR ATTILA TÓTH

PART II

Constitutional reforms in ‘established’ democracies	97
--	-----------

4 Participatory constitution-making and the renovation of the UK constitution	99
SILVIA SUTEU

5	Constitutional paradigms: The Italian 1948 Constitution between conservation and reform	119
	PAUL BLOKKER
6	Ireland's evolving constitution	142
	JANE SUITER, DAVID M. FARRELL, AND CLODAGH HARRIS
7	The constitution as a political tool in Iceland: From the periphery to the center of the political debate	155
	BALDVIN THOR BERGSSON
 PART III
	Constitution-making, constitutional reform, and deadlock in 'new' democracies	175
8	Constitutional revision in Romania: Post-accession pluralism in action	177
	BOGDAN IANCU
9	Changing constitutional identity via amendment	197
	KRISZTA KOVÁCS
10	The rise and fall of constitutionalism in Hungary	215
	GÁBOR HALMAI
	 Index	 232