

Contents

Translator's Preface vii

Introduction ix

Part I: The Antinomies of Power 1

- 1 First Antinomy (on the Means of Power) 9
Range of the antinomy—Forces, operators, and signs—Prestige—Witchcraft: meaning in excess—Politics of repression
- 2 Second Antinomy (on the Forms of Power) 25
Range of the antinomy—Distribution of powers, democracy—Political power and social power—Contracts of power—The surplus value of power—The case of the Nambikwara—The autonomy of politics
- 3 Third Antinomy (on the Ends of Power) 41
Range of the antinomy—A case study: the function of the dead among the LoDagaba—Reexamination of a text by Marshall Sahlins—The social power of the dead—The solution of the antinomy
- 4 Fourth Antinomy (on the Limits of Power) 57
Range of the antinomy—Space and time: reasons for the antinomy—An illustration: a therapeutic ritual among the Ndembu—Ritual and the irreversibility of time—Stages of the ritual—Symbolics of the ritual: the Isoma case—The organization of signs—The solution of the antinomy of the body—Ritual and power

Part II: Metamorphoses of the Body:

Prolegomena to a Theory of the Symbolic Object 87

-
- 1 The Floating Signifier 93
Therapy and bodily energies—The remainder, between thing and symbol

2	The Body, Transducer of Signs 107	Pantomime and infralanguage—Gesturology—Infralanguage and the image of the body—The space of the body: exfoliations—The one-multiple and forms—The notion of infralanguage: rhythm and exfoliation—The return of the ritual—Metamorphoses of one-becoming and the image of the body—Animal-becoming: Kafka as ethnologist
3	The Body and the Traditional Community 153	The monster caricature, and Arcimboldo—Reexamination of the Maori text
4	Dance and the Laughter of Bodies 165	Dance and infralanguage—The “grotesque” body in the Middle Ages
5	Seriousness of Symbols and Incarnation 175	Potlatch and symbolic surplus value—Fixing the floating signifier and the supreme signifier—The example of sects—Voice and the body
6	The Body and the Voice 187
7	The Body in Penal Settlements 197	Discussion of Kafka's In the Penal Settlement —Change in the regime of signs—Ecorchés
8	Note on the Frontispiece of De Humani Corporis Fabrica by Vesalius 217
<hr/>
Part III: The Body and the Origin of the State 227
1	Anthropology and the Problem of the Origin of the State 235	Before the State
2	Conditions Under Which Societies without States Can Become State Societies 245	Nature of politics—Politics and the magical-religious: overlays—Towards an economy of the surplus value of power
3	The Origin of the State 261	The monopoly of violence and tribal justice—The space of justice—Conflict, exchanges, and debt—The judiciary process—Justice and State law—The body of the State
4	The Body of the State 289
5	The Surplus Value of the Power of the State 305
	Notes 313
	Index 331	