

Contents

Introduction	vii
Aruna D'Souza
Part One: Remapping Terrains, Retelling Time
An Ephemeris, Corrected for the Longitudes of Tomorrow: Speculations on the Orbit and Motion of Objects and Processes in Contemporary Art Today and Tomorrow	3
Raqs Media Collective
De Tlacuilolli: Renaissance Artistic Theory in the Wake of the Global Turn	20
Alessandra Russo
Transnational Architecture, Ethics, and the Reification of History: Park51 Islamic Community Center in New York City	40
Kishwar Rizvi
Photography's Time of Dispersal and Return	61
Kobena Mercer
Part Two: Decentering and Reorienting Global Art Histories
Conversation without Borders	79
Steven Nelson
Art History and Its Discontents in Global Times	88
Parul Dave-Mukherji
Troubles with Perspective: Case Studies in Picture-Making from Qajar Iran	107
David J. Roxburgh
What Art Does: Methodological Privileging of Agency and Art History's Global Dispute in 1901	126
Talinn Grigor

Part Three: Translating, Counter-Visualization, and Practice

Channels and Items of Translation	145
Esra Akcan
Globalatinization, León Ferrari, and the Situated Art Historian	160
Todd Porterfield
Isaac Julien, or the Southern Question in Art History	176
Ranjana Khanna
The History of the Anonymous and Horizontal Visuality	197
Nicholas Mirzoeff
Epilogue
Turning the “Fearful Sphere”: Prepositional Tactics in and for the Global	213
Jill H. Casid
Contributors	228
Photography Credits	232