

CONTENTS

Preface / vii

Craig Owens: "The Indignity of Speaking for Others" by Simon Watney / ix

PART I · TOWARD A THEORY OF POSTMODERNISM

Einstein on the Beach: The Primacy of Metaphor / 3

Photography en abyme / 16

Detachment: from the parergon / 31

Earthwords / 40

The Allegorical Impulse: Toward a Theory of Postmodernism / 52

The Allegorical Impulse: Toward a Theory of Postmodernism, Part 2 / 70

Representation, Appropriation, and Power / 88

Sherrie Levine at A&M Artworks / 114

Allan McCollum: Repetition and Difference / 117

From Work to Frame, or, Is There Life After
"The Death of the Author"? / 122

PART II · SEXUALITY/POWER

Honor, Power, and the Love of Women / 143

William Wegman's Psychoanalytic Vaudeville / 156

The Discourse of Others: Feminists and Postmodernism / 166

The Medusa Effect, or, The Specular Ruse / 191

Posing / 201

Outlaws: Gay Men in Feminism / 218

PART III · CULTURES

Politics of Coppélia / 239

Sects and Language / 243

The Critic as Realist / 253

"The Indignity of Speaking for Others": An Imaginary Interview / 259

The Problem with Puerilism / 263

Analysis Logical and Ideological / 268

Improper Names / 284

Interview with Craig Owens by Anders Stephanson / 298

The Yen for Art / 316

Global Issues / 324

PART IV · PEDAGOGY

Postmodern Art 1971–1986 / 329

Bibliography: Contemporary Art and Art Criticism / 334

Seminar in Theory and Criticism / 339

Bibliography: The Political Economy of Culture / 345

Visualizing AIDS / 355

Course Bibliography on Visual AIDS / 358

Bibliography / 367

Index / 371