

Contents

Forewords	v
About the editors	vii
About the contributors	viii
Introduction
Paula Whitty and Martin Eccles	1
Chapter 1
The potential benefits, limitations and harms of clinical practice guidelines
Steven H Woolf, Martin Eccles, Richard Grol, Allen Hutchinson and Jeremy Grimshaw	5
Chapter 2
Developing guidelines
Paul G Shekelle, Martin Eccles, Steven H Woolf and Jeremy Grimshaw	13
Chapter 3
Health economics and clinical practice guidelines
Martin Eccles and James Mason	25
Chapter 4
The legal status of clinical practice guidelines
Brian S Hurwitz	37
Chapter 5
Using clinical practice guidelines
Gene Feder, Martin Eccles, Richard Grol, Chris Griffiths and Jeremy Grimshaw	53
Chapter 6
The Mental Health Technology Appraisal and Clinical Guidelines Programmes of the National Institute for Clinical Excellence for England and Wales
Peter Littlejohns, Gillian Leng and Carole Longson	63
Chapter 7
Mental health guidelines development in Scotland
Joanne Topalian and Sara Twaddle	73

Chapter 8
The National Collaborating Centre for Mental Health
Tim Kendall and Steve Pilling	81
Chapter 9
Using mental health guidelines in the NHS: views from a specialist mental health trust
Roger Paxton, Paula Whitty and Hugh Griffiths	93
Chapter 10
Using mental health guidelines in primary care: the example of depression management
Paul Walters, Simon Gilbody and Andre Tylee	105
Postscript	115
Appendix: Completed NICE mental health technology appraisals and guidelines: summaries as available from the NICE website	117
Index	129