

Contents

Special Issue on The Many Faces of 'Style' in Law and Legal Scholarship

Special Issue Introduction

- 241–245 Why care about 'style' in legal scholarship?
Péter Cserne

Special Issue Articles

- 246–262 The limits of plain legal language: understanding the comprehensible style in law
Zsolt Zódi
- 263–273 Towards a semiotic theory of style in law: a Peircean approach
Bettina Bor and Miklós Könczöl
- 274–296 Comparing legal styles
Catherine Valcke
- 297–309 Conceptualising 'style' in legal scholarship: the curious case of Zweigert's 'style doctrine'
Péter Cserne
- 310–326 Change of style, change of mind: lawyers' writing manners
Alexandra Mercescu

Articles

- 327–343 On the edges of the law: sex workers' legal consciousness in England
Eva Klambauer
- 344–361 Social bodies and social justice
Sam Lewis and Michael Thomson

Book reviews

- 362–364 The Business of Transition: Law Reform, Economics and Development in Myanmar
Elliott Prasse-Freeman
- 364–366 Confronting Apartheid: A Personal History of South Africa, Namibia and Palestine
Ran Greenstein