

Contents

Introduction	vii
Bengt Ankarloo and Stuart Clark
PART 1: THE DECLINE AND END OF WITCHCRAFT PROSECUTIONS	1
Brian P. Levack, University of Texas at Austin
Introduction	3
Chapter 1: General Reasons for the Decline in Prosecutions	7
Judicial Scepticism and Procedural Caution	7
Changes in Witch-Beliefs	33
Religious Changes	40
Social and Economic Changes	44
Chapter 2: Patterns and Dynamics of Decline: Five Case-Studies (France, England, Scotland, Germany – Württemberg, Hungary)	48
Chapter 3: The End of Prosecutions	74
The Process of Decriminalization	74
Judicial Effects of the Decline	78
Conclusion	86
PART 2: WITCHCRAFT AFTER THE WITCH-TRIALS	95
Marijke Gijswijt-Hofstra, University of Amsterdam
Introduction	97
Chapter 1: From the Low Countries to France	102
The Netherlands and the Enchanted World	102
Belgium: From Witch-trials to Witch-lynchings?	113
France: Witches, Priests and the Ambiguity of Unwitching	117
Chapter 2: From the Mediterranean Countries to the British Isles, and Scandinavia	129
The Mediterranean Countries: From the Inquisition with Love	129

vi Witchcraft and Magic in Europe: The Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries

The British Isles: Fairies and Witches, Fire and Water	141
Scandinavia: Divergent Gender Patterns	151
Chapter 3: From Eastern and Central Europe to Germany and Switzerland	157
Eastern and Central Europe: Witches, Vampires and more	157
Germany and the Devil	162
Switzerland: The End of the Journey	173
Conclusion: Cultures of Misfortune: Towards a Disenchanted Europe?	175
PART 3: WITCHCRAFT AND MAGIC IN ENLIGHTENMENT, ROMANTIC AND LIBERAL THOUGHT	191
Roy Porter, Wellcome Institute for the History of Medicine
Chapter 1: Controversy c.1680–1800	193
Introduction	193
The Decline of Witch Practices and Beliefs in England	194
Changing Mind-Sets: Religion, Philosophy and Science	197
Eighteenth-Century Witchcraft Debates	199
Challenges to Witch Beliefs and Practices on the Continent	211
Chapter 2: The Enlightenment Crusade	219
Introduction	219
Voltaire and the Philosophes	219
The Status of Superstition	225
The Role of Medicine	226
Conclusion	235
Chapter 3: Culture and the Supernatural c.1680–1800	237
Introduction	237
The Reformation of Popular Culture	240
Survival: Art and Literature	245
Rebirth: The Occult in the Secular World	250
Chapter 4: The Disenchantment of the World in the Nineteenth Century	255
Introduction: Pathologies of Superstition	255
The Grand Theory of Secularization	263
The Psychopathology of Witchcraft and Magic	267
The Return of the Repressed	272
Conclusion: Secularization	274
Bibliography	283
Index	324