

TEACHING TODAY

A PRACTICAL GUIDE FIFTH EDITION

Teaching Today is a highly readable, easy-to-use and hugely popular introduction to teaching.

An experienced educator with an international reputation, Geoff Petty provides guidance that is supportive, challenging, and down-to-earth. Reading Teaching Today is like having a mentor of one's own.

This fully updated new edition provides a fresh treatment of the critical issues of differentiation, equality, inclusion, and how teachers work with other adults.

As in previous editions, the emphasis throughout is on practicality – on how teachers put ideas into practice to actually make a difference to their pupils' learning.

About the Author

An experienced teacher with an international reputation, Geoff Petty has worked as a consultant for over 500 colleges and schools, as well as for several national education bodies in the UK and abroad. His best-selling books on teaching and learning, which have been translated into many languages including Chinese and Russian, are valued by members of the teaching profession for their no-nonsense practicality, clarity, and dependability.

“What makes this book different to so many others, is how powerfully the author supports teachers and student teachers in transferring the theory of best practice directly into their classrooms.”

Mrs Gillian Forrester
Strategy Manager, Teaching, Learning & Assessment, Gateshead College

“A clear and comprehensive guide to schooling, written in an accessible and engaging way.”

Ms Helena Marsh
Deputy Principal, Linton Village College

“This is a valuable text, providing the fundamentals for Cert Ed and PGCE students.”

Dr Andy Convery
Senior Lecturer, University of Sunderland

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

How to get in touch:

web www.oxfordsecondary.co.uk
email schools.enquiries.uk@oup.com
tel +44 (0)1536 452620
fax +44 (0)1865 313472

ISBN 978-1-4085-2314-8

9 781408 523148

Preface	5
Help with your teacher training assessments	6

Part 1

The learner's practical and emotional needs

1 How do we learn?	9
2 Learning skills by corrected practice	30
3 The learner's needs	35
4 Quality teaching and learning is a two-way process	44
5 Motivation	52
6 Praise and criticism	69
7 The teacher-learner relationship and equal opportunities	80
8 Classroom management	98
9 Discipline and problem solving	109
10 What kind of teacher are you?	126

Part 2

The teacher's toolkit

Introduction to the teacher's toolkit	133
--	-----

Teacher-centred methods

11 Teacher talk	153
12 The art of explaining	159
13 The art of showing	171
14 Questioning	178
15 The aide-memoire: note making	193

Active methods

16 Supervised student practice	198
17 Discussion	208
18 Group work and student talk	217
19 Games and active learning methods	231
20 Role play, drama and simulations	241
21 Games to teach language and communication skills	245
22 Seminars	251
23 Learning for remembering: review and recall	254
24 Whole-class interactive teaching: assertive questioning	262

Student-centred methods

25 Reading for learning	269
26 Private study and homework	275
27 Assignments and projects	277
28 Essays and reports	284
29 Guided discovery: teaching by asking	292

30	Creativity, design and invention	301
31	Learning from experience and reflection	313
32	Whole-brain, visual and kinaesthetic methods	323
33	Independent learning	333
34	Self-directed learning	343

Part 3

Resources for teaching and learning

35	Visual aids, Microsoft PowerPoint® and interactive whiteboards	348
36	Students learning with computers: e-learning, ICT and ILT	362

Part 4

Putting it all together

37	Aims and objectives	384
38	Choosing activities for the lesson	395
39	Choosing activities to achieve affective objectives	407
40	Writing the lesson plan	413
41	Flexible and inclusive course organisation and record keeping	421
42	Planning courses	438
43	Assessment	447
44	Summative assessment	462

Part 5

The professional in practice

Issues

45	What teachers can achieve: the active mindset	470
46	Initial and diagnostic assessment: assessing learners' needs	480
47	Providing learners with support	498
48	Differentiation: coping with differences	514
49	Equality, diversity and attainment: your role	529
50	Working with others	544
51	Inclusion in context	553

Improvement

52	Evaluating my teaching: the reflective practitioner	562
53	Evaluating courses and quality improvement	574
54	How to teach and remain sane	590

Appendix: Professional requirements	595
--	------------

Bibliography	596
---------------------	------------

Index	609
--------------	------------