

CONTENTS

	Tas served with wrapped milk, sugar, and biscuits	79
Line Figures	Double-wrapped biscuits	xii
Line Plates	Wrapped 'wrapped' cakes	xv
	A gift-packed ham joint	1
Introduction	A formally wrapped gift with wrapping paper	1
1. The Purpose and Meaning of Wrapping	A condolence gift, with joint money	8
2. The Language and Value of Japanese Wrapping	Envelopes for wrapping money	27
3. Japanese Language as Wrapping	Envelopes for wrapping money for Christmas	52
4. Wrapping of the Body	Well-wrapped cakes	70
5. The Wrapping of Space	Chawan, midsummer presentation incense	98
6. Social Wrapping, or People Wrapping People	A precious pot, carefully wrapped and kept in a box	123
7. Temporal Wrapping—and Unwrapping	The character for wrapping	138
8. Politeness, Packaging, and Power	A presentation towel, with its wrapping	155
	Towel animals	155
	A parcel wrapped in a wrapper	171
	Souvenirs (omiyage)	171
Wrapping it up: The Symbolic Power of Wrapping	Souvenirs may double the volume of message	171
Notes	Protective amulets	175
Bibliography	Paper marking off a sacred area	181
Index	An elaborate paper doll	191
	A Japanese room with paper windows, paper sliding doors, and floors of straw matting	191
	A straw shikamaru marking off a sacred area	191
	The Ainu man, a vehicle of spiritual power	191
	A sake tub and wooden cup for ritual occasions	191
	A three-tier set of lacquer sake cups used for ritual occasions	191
	Cloth gate-wrapping displaying the household crest	191
	Packaging for an engagement ring	191
	Packaging for betrothal tea	191
	Offerings to deities	191
	Wrapping a offering to deities	191
	An offering to deities	191
	The twelve-labeled jūnihitoe, worn by the Crown Prince's younger brother of the Crown Prince	191