

Contents

List of Contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction ROBERT S. ROSS AND ØYSTEIN TUNSJØ	1
PART I. POWER AND POLITICS IN THE EAST ASIAN TRANSITION
1. Domestic Politics and Nationalism in East Asian Security RANDALL L. SCHWELLER	15
2. U.S.-China Relations: From Unipolar Hedging toward Bipolar Balancing ØYSTEIN TUNSJØ	41
3. Perception, Misperception, and Sensitivity: Chinese Economic Power and Preferences after the 2008 Financial Crisis DANIEL W. DREZNER	69
4. Two Asias? China's Rise, Dual Structure, and the Alliance System in East Asia WANG DONG	100

PART II. JAPAN, SOUTH KOREA, AND THE RISE OF CHINA: NATIONAL SECURITY AND NATIONALISM

5. Protecting the Status Quo: Japan's Response to the Rise of China 137
IAN BOWERS AND BJØRN ELIAS MIKALSEN GRØNNING
6. Popular Nationalism and Economic Interests in China's Japan Policy 169
JAMES REILLY
7. China's Rise and Security Dynamics on the Korean Peninsula 196
CHUNG-IN MOON

PART III. GREAT POWER RELATIONS AND REGIONAL CONFLICT

8. Threading the Needle: The South China Sea Disputes and U.S.-China Relations 233
M. TAYLOR FRAVEL
9. The United States and China in Northeast Asia: Third-Party Coercion and Alliance Relations 261
ROBERT S. ROSS
- Conclusion: East Asia at the Center: Power Shifts and Theory 285
ØYSTEIN TUNSJØ
- Index* 299