

Contents

1 Introduction	1
References	5
2 Legal Status and Autonomy of International Sporting Governing Bodies and Rules Governing Sporting Nationality	7
2.1 Legal Status and Autonomy of International Sporting Governing Bodies	7
2.2 Binding Effect of International Sporting Governing Bodies' Rules on Athletes and Other Persons	11
2.3 International Sporting Governing Bodies' Rules Determining Athletes' Eligibility for National Teams	13
References	20
3 European Union Law and Sporting Nationality: Scope, Restriction, Justification	23
3.1 Do Rules Governing Sporting Nationality Fall Within the Scope of European Union Law?	23
3.1.1 Before Meca-Medina & Majcen : National Teams Exception	24
3.1.2 After Meca-Medina & Majcen : Focus on Justification	28
3.2 Sporting Nationality Rules as a Restriction to European Union Law	38
3.3 Justification and Proportionality of Sporting Nationality Rules Constituting a Restriction to European Union Law	39
3.3.1 Treaty Derogations	39
3.3.2 Rule of Reason	41
3.3.3 Principle of Proportionality	43
References	44

4	Meca-Medina & Majcen: A New Way Forward	47
4.1	Demise of the Purely Sporting Rule Exception	47
4.2	Context, Objective, Inherence and Proportionality	51
	References	54
5	European Union Law and Sporting Nationality: Dangerous Liaison?	57
5.1	Sporting Rules Outside the Scope of European Union Law	58
5.2	Rules Governing Sporting Nationality Which Constitute a Restriction to European Union Law that May Be Justified and Proportionate	60
5.2.1	Rules Governing the Election of Sporting Nationality	63
5.2.2	Waiting Periods	65
5.3	Sporting Nationality Rules that Constitute a Disproportionate and Unjustifiable Restriction to European Union Law	69
5.3.1	Quotas of Naturalised Athletes	70
5.3.2	Rules Prohibiting the Modification of Sporting Nationality	73
	References	77
6	European Union Law and Sporting Nationality: Creating a Promising Alliance	81
6.1	General Recommendations for International Sporting Governing Bodies with Regard to EU Law	81
6.2	Concrete Recommendations for International Sporting Governing Bodies on How to Adapt Their Sporting Nationality Rules to EU Law Requirements	84
6.2.1	Recommendations on Rules Prohibiting the Modification of Sporting Nationality: Let Athletes Change Their Eligibility	84
6.2.2	Recommendations on Waiting Periods: Harmonise or Shorten	85
6.2.3	Recommendations on Quotas of Naturalised Athletes: Up to Half of the Team	89
	References	91
7	Conclusion	93
	Annexes	95