

REMARKS	8	Asset bubbles, negative rates—'tis the season to be wary
1 BUSINESS	14 17 18	The 737 Max's woes may have started with pilot training Airlines aren't going up, but fees sure are Emirates rakes it in on the Dubai-Riyadh route
2 TECHNOLOGY	23 25 26	Is sucking up CO <sub>2</sub> the coming great green technology? Your next lawyer could be a software program Patri Friedman's roundabout push for mini-city-states
3 FINANCE	29 32	Banks can't stop dressing up the numbers On Wall Street, a few signs of #MeToo
4 ECONOMICS	35	Japan strikes at South Korea's export machine

	36	▲ Can't afford Manhattan? New Rochelle wants you
	38	How climate change helped spark a Chilean revolution
5 POLITICS	40 42 43 44	Winning was easy for Boris Johnson. Now the hard part Impeachment may be a gift for Biden in Iowa Merkel looks set to weather whatever storm comes next If Brexit, wonders Western Canada, why not Wexit?
LAST THING	80	In praise of the dullest bull market ever

FEATURES

46

The Tension-Filled World of Masayoshi Son

SoftBank's chief cultivates a culture that encourages recklessness

52

How a Hacker Took Down a Country

Daniel Kaye short-circuited Liberia's internet—just to make a buck

60

Not-So-Plain Vanilla

A wild economic ride delivers the ingredient from Madagascar to your kitchen