

Contents

Note to the Reader	6	The Third Exhibition 1877	189
Sponsor's Statement	8	The "First" Exhibition of Impressionist Painters
Acknowledgments	9	Richard R. Brettell
Lenders to the Exhibition	12	The Fourth Exhibition 1879	243
Directors' Preface	13	Contemporary Popularity and Posthumous Neglect
Ian McKibbin White, J. Carter Brown		Ronald Pickvance
Introduction	17	The Fifth Exhibition 1880	293
Charles S. Moffett		Disarray and Disappointment
The Impressionists and Edouard Manet	27	Charles S. Moffett
Stéphane Mallarmé		The Sixth Exhibition 1881	337
The New Painting	37	Realists among the Impressionists
Louis Emile Edmond Duranty		Fronia E. Wissman
The Intransigent Artist		The Seventh Exhibition 1882	375
or How the Impressionists Got Their Name	51	The Painters Called Impressionists
Stephen F. Eisenman		Joel Isaacson
The End of Impressionism	61	The Eighth Exhibition 1886	421
Richard Shiff		The Rhetoric of Independence and Innovation
The First Exhibition 1874	93	Martha Ward
The First Impressionist Exhibition in Context		Appendix
Paul Tucker		La nouvelle peinture	477
The Second Exhibition 1876	145	Louis Emile Edmond Duranty
A Failed Attempt		Abbreviated References	485
Hollis Clayson		Contemporary Reviews	490
		Bibliography	497
		Index of Artists	506