

■ IN BRIEF	6	Putin 4ever? ● A record year for JPMorgan Chase
■ AGENDA	7	The world heads to Davos ● Netflix's earnings
■ REMARKS	8	The EU is going to miss the U.K.
1 BUSINESS	12	A tenuous future for the Renault-Nissan alliance
	14	Fears of the Big C slow the rollout of 5G in Europe
2 TECHNOLOGY	16	Microsoft's millions haven't eased Seattle's housing crisis
	18	A swarm of investors descends on biopesticide startups
3 FINANCE	20	After a decade of micro returns, a few macro funds rebound
	21	Australia hopes competition will improve big banks' behavior
	23	Two Americans demand their day in a Mexican court
4 ECONOMICS	25	Making a trade deal with China is easier than enforcing it
	27	China's citizens are freer to move about the country
	29	▼ The Netherlands risks losing its lead in weed

5 POLITICS	30	A shaky economy could loosen Modi's grip in India
	31	Krakov takes to the sky to fight air pollution
+ SOLUTIONS/ DAVOS	34	All the climate talk in Davos can be more than hot air
	37	Pushing leaders to move beyond good intentions
■ PURSUITS	59	It takes lots of greenbacks to run a backyard greenhouse
	62	Stylish riffs on the old-fashioned watering can
	64	Audi's RS 6 Avant, the grocery-getting supercar
	66	The humble wristband is no easy task for watchmakers
	67	Put a spring in your winter step with ultralight snowshoes
■ LAST THING	68	No nightmare before Christmas for FedEx and UPS

FEATURES

38

Nobody Makes Money Like Leon Black

One way or another, the fearsome Apollo Global founder always wins

46

Fast-Fashion Flameout

The singular practices and spectacular collapse of Forever 21

52

Inside Carlos Ghosn's Escape to Beirut

An elite extraction team spent months planning how to spring the former CEO