

CONTENTS

PREFACE iii

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS v

PART I: Introduction to Cities and Urban Geography

1 AN INTRODUCTION TO THE CHANGING FIELD OF URBAN GEOGRAPHY 1

Introduction	1
Box 1.1	4
The Field of Urban Geography	5
The Origin and Evolution of Urban Geography	6
The Four Traditions, 1900–1970	6
The Physical Tradition	6
The Human-Environment Tradition	7
The Regional Tradition	8
The Spatial Tradition	9
Precursors of Spatial Analysis in Urban Geography	9
European Influences on Spatial Analysis in Urban Geography	10
Extradisciplinary Influences on Spatial Analysis in Urban Geography	10
Critiques of Spatial Analysis in Urban Geography	11
Behavioral Urban Geography	11
Marxist Interpretations	11
Humanistic Urban Geography	12
Social Theory	12
Postmodernism	13
Geographic Information Science and Urban Geography	14

Technology and Urban Geography

Box 1.2 15

Substantive Trends in Urban Geography	16
Urbanization and Global Cities	16
Feminist Urban Geography	17
Urban Culture Geography	18
Urban Historical Geography	19
Locational Analysis in Urban Geography	20
The Chicago and Los Angeles Schools of Urban Geography	21
The Chicago School	21
The Los Angeles School	21
The New Urbanism	22
Introduction to this Textbook	22
Wrapping Up	23
Readings	24

2 THE ORIGINS AND DEVELOPMENT OF CITIES 26

What Are Cities?	26
Preconditions to Urban Formation	28
Box 2.1	28
Ecology, Technology, and Power	29
Theories of Urban Origins	30
Agricultural Surplus	30
Religious Causes	30
Defensive Needs	31
Trading Requirements	32
Patterns of Early Urbanization	33
Locations of Early Cities	33
Diffusion of Urbanization	33
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 2.2	35

Urban Evolution and Early Economic Imperatives:	Recent Shifts in the U.S. Urban
Traditional Cities 36	Population 64
The Early City-States: Sumeria 36	Metropolitan Dominance 67
Other Ancient Cities 39	Box 3.1 68
Egypt 39	Pred's Model 69
Indus Valley 40	Urbanization and Industrialization Among
Northern China 40	U.S. Urban Centers 71
Mesoamerican Cities 40	Borchert's Transport Epochs and American
Imperial Cities 42	Metropolitan Growth 71
Box 2.3 42	Horse and Wagon Epoch, 1790–1830 71
Imperial Rome 43	Regional Railroad, 1830–1870 71
Rome's Contribution to Urban	National Railroad Network Epoch,
Development 45	1870–1920 71
Cities as Engines of Economic Growth: Capitalism,	Automobile-Airplane Epoch,
Industrialism, and Urbanization 46	1920–1960 72
The New Trading Cities 46	Urbanization Processes 73
Box 2.4 47	Urbanization Curves 73
A Capitalist Economy 48	Central Place Theory 73
The Revival of Urbanization 48	Centrality 74
Northern Italy 50	Range of a Good 74
Northern Europe 50	Threshold 74
Structure and Form of the Trading Cities 50	Hexagonal Trade Areas 75
Political and Economic Structure 50	Rank-Size Rule 75
Spatial Form 52	Kondratiev Waves 76
Box 2.5 53	Urban Growth in America 77
Box 2.6 54	The Meyer-Wyckoff Frontier Cities
Industrial Cities 54	Model 77
Industrial Revolution 56	The Vance Mercantile Cities Model 78
Changing Logic of City Location 57	Contemporary Urban-Economic
Elements of the Industrial City 59	Restructuring 79
Wrapping Up 59	Empirical Examples 79
Readings 60	Box 3.2 80
PART II: Metropolitan Systems	Technology and Urban Geography
3 THE EVOLUTION OF THE AMERICAN	Box 3.3 82
URBAN SYSTEM 61	Amenities 82
The American Urban Hierarchy, 1630–2007 62	Attracting Young Educated People 84
Colonial Imprints 62	Box 3.4 85
The Early Development of the U.S. Urban	Recent Metropolitan Population Shifts 85
Hierarchy 63	Wrapping Up 86
	Readings 86

4 GLOBALIZATION AND THE URBAN SYSTEM 88

World Cities	89
The World City Hierarchy	89
Changing Functions of World Cities	92
Capitalism, Power, and World Cities	93
Examples of World City Globalization	95
Powerful World Cities	95
World Cities and Wealth	95
Box 4.1	96
U.S. Law Firms in World Cities	99
Box 4.2	100
Box 4.3	101
Interconnections Among World Cities	101
Interaction Among World Cities	101
The Tourist World City	103
New York and Los Angeles as Tourist Cities	105
The Impact of 9/11	105
Multinational Corporations	107
U.S. Multinational Corporations	107
The Wal-Mart Example	109
From Bentonville to Beijing	113
Micro-Multinationals	113
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 4.4	114
Wrapping Up	114
Readings	116

5 TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND THE CITY 117

Box 5.1	118
A History of Computing and the Development of the Internet	119
Mainframe Computers	120
Minicomputers to Personal Computers	120
Telecommunications: Dispersal or Concentration?	121
Telecommunications and Geographic dispersal	121

Telecommunications and Geographic Concentration	122
Front Office Activities	123
Universities	123
Web Sites	124
National and Global Fiber-Optic Networks	124
Fiber-Optic Cables	125
U.S. Internet Urban Linkages	126
Competition Between Fiber-Optics and Satellites	128
Overnight Information Flows	128
Telecommunications and Urban Society	131
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 5.2	132
Box 5.3	134
Telecommunications and the Transformation of Urban Space	134
Telecommunications and Financial Markets	136
Telecommunications and Office Economies	136
Intrametropolitan Locations of Professional and Business Services	137
Intrametropolitan Fiber-Optic Loops	138
Wireless Telecommunications	139
The Automobile as Wireless Internet	140
Wrapping Up	141
Readings	141

PART III: The Economic Landscape of the City

6 URBAN LAND USE: THE CBD AND THE GROWTH OF THE SUBURBS 143

Central-City Decline	143
CBD Centrality	144
The Development of Central Business Districts	144
The Decline of CBD Centrality and the Rise of Agglomeration Economies	146
CBD Agglomeration Linkages	147

Traditional CBD Characteristics	148	7 LANDSCAPES OF PRODUCTION	167
The CBD Core-Frame Concept	148	Understanding the Economies of Cities	167
Zones of CBD Assimilation and Discard	149	Basic and Nonbasic Economic Activities	168
Daytime-Nighttime CBD Populations	150	Basic vs. Nonbasic Activities	168
Contemporary CBD Retailing	151	Multipliers	168
CBD Redevelopment and Revitalization	152	Circular and Cumulative Causation	169
Packaging the Entrepreneurial CBD	152	Agglomeration	170
Contemporary CBD Activities	153	Interurban Industrial Production and Location	171
Business and Professional Services in Atlanta	153	The Growth Pole Model	171
Location of Accounting Services	155	The Stanback Model	171
America's New Downtowns	155	Manufacturing versus Service Cities	173
Models of Suburban Evolution in North American Metropolises	156	Recent U.S. Manufacturing Changes	174
Location Rent and Urban Land Use	156	The 1980s Rust Belt	175
Land and Property Values	157	Box 7.1	176
Erickson's Model of the Evolution of the Suburban Space Economy	157	Technology and Urban Geography
Spillover and Specialization	159	Box 7.2	177
Dispersal and Diversification	159	Human Talent and the Location of High-Technology Industry	178
Infilling and Multinucleation	159	Box 7.3	179
The Hartshorn and Muller Model of Suburban Downtowns	160	Intraurban Industrial Production and Location	180
Sprawl	160	The Wheeler-Park Model	180
Independence	161	The Product Cycle Model	182
Magnets	161	Box 7.4	183
High Rise/High Tech	161	Political Economy Approaches	185
Mature Town Center	162	Basic Concepts	185
Box 6.1	162	Circuits of Capital	186
Beyond the Hartshorn and Muller Model: Twenty-First Century Big City Suburbs	163	Wrapping Up	188
Suburban Sprawl	163	Readings	188
Technology and Urban Geography		PART IV: The Social Landscape of the City
Box 6.2	164	8 FOUNDATIONS OF URBAN SOCIAL LANDSCAPES	190
Wrapping Up	164	Ecological Approach to Cities	190
Box 6.3	166	"Community Lost": European Perspectives on Cities	191
Readings	166

Box 8.1	192	Sectors of Housing Tenure	221
The Chicago School of Sociology	194	Housing as a Commodity	221
Traditional Models of Urban Spatial Structure	197	Housing Demand	221
Burgess Concentric Zone Model	197	Box 9.1	222
Hoyt Sector Model	197	Box 9.2	223
Harris and Ullman Multiple Nuclei Model	199	Housing Supply	224
More Complex Models	200	Housing Market Geographies	224
Social Area Analysis and Factorial Ecology	200	Urban Ecology and Housing Markets: Invasion and Succession	224
Box 8.2	201	Filtering and Vacancy Chains	225
The Urban Mosaic	202	Life-Cycle Notions of Neighborhood Change	227
Contemporary Urban Social Space: Globalization, Postmodernism, and Cities of Difference	203	Market Realities: Ongoing Debates Over Equal Access to Housing	227
Globalization: General Trends	204	Real Estate Agents and Differentiated Access	228
Elements of the Global City	204	Discrimination in Lending	232
The Citadel	205	Accumulated Impacts of Housing Market Discrimination	233
The Enclave	206	Box 9.3	234
The Ghetto	206	Housing Market Realities: Government Involvement	235
“In Between” Neighborhoods in the Global City	206	Securing Home Ownership through Loan Guarantees	236
The Gentrified City	207	A New System of Housing Finance: The Secondary Mortgage Market	237
The Suburban City	207	Sprawl and the Suburbanization of Housing	238
The Working-Class City	208	Antecedents and Preconditions of Post-World War II Suburban Sprawl	239
Postmodern Urbanism	208	Technology and Urban Geography
Cities of Difference	210	Box 8.3	212
Women and the City	211	Sexuality and the City	214
Technology and Urban Geography		Wrapping Up	215
Box 8.3	212	Box 8.4	216
Sexuality and the City	214	Readings	218
Wrapping Up	215	9 URBAN HOUSING MARKETS: SPRAWL, BLIGHT, AND REGENERATION	220
Box 8.4	216	Basics of Housing and Housing Markets	220
Readings	218	Sectors of Housing Tenure	221
9 URBAN HOUSING MARKETS: SPRAWL, BLIGHT, AND REGENERATION	220	Housing as a Commodity	221
Basics of Housing and Housing Markets	220	Housing Demand	221
Sectors of Housing Tenure	221	Box 9.1	222
Housing as a Commodity	221	Box 9.2	223
Housing Demand	221	Housing Supply	224
Box 9.1	222	Housing Market Geographies	224
Box 9.2	223	Urban Ecology and Housing Markets: Invasion and Succession	224
Housing Supply	224	Filtering and Vacancy Chains	225
Housing Market Geographies	224	Life-Cycle Notions of Neighborhood Change	227
Urban Ecology and Housing Markets: Invasion and Succession	224	Market Realities: Ongoing Debates Over Equal Access to Housing	227
Filtering and Vacancy Chains	225	Real Estate Agents and Differentiated Access	228
Life-Cycle Notions of Neighborhood Change	227	Discrimination in Lending	232
Market Realities: Ongoing Debates Over Equal Access to Housing	227	Accumulated Impacts of Housing Market Discrimination	233
Real Estate Agents and Differentiated Access	228	Box 9.3	234
Discrimination in Lending	232	Housing Market Realities: Government Involvement	235
Accumulated Impacts of Housing Market Discrimination	233	Securing Home Ownership through Loan Guarantees	236
Box 9.3	234	A New System of Housing Finance: The Secondary Mortgage Market	237
Housing Market Realities: Government Involvement	235	Sprawl and the Suburbanization of Housing	238
Securing Home Ownership through Loan Guarantees	236	Antecedents and Preconditions of Post-World War II Suburban Sprawl	239
A New System of Housing Finance: The Secondary Mortgage Market	237	Technology and Urban Geography
Sprawl and the Suburbanization of Housing	238	Box 9.4	240
Antecedents and Preconditions of Post-World War II Suburban Sprawl	239	Postwar Sprawl	243
Technology and Urban Geography		Supply and Demand Factors	244
Box 9.4	240	Sprawl and the Federal Government: Housing Finance	247
Postwar Sprawl	243	Sprawl and the Federal Government: Automobiles and Interstate Freeways	247
Supply and Demand Factors	244	“Blight” and the Fate of Inner-City Housing	248
Sprawl and the Federal Government: Housing Finance	247
Sprawl and the Federal Government: Automobiles and Interstate Freeways	247
“Blight” and the Fate of Inner-City Housing	248

Urban Orientation of New Immigrants	301
Neighborhood Locations	303
Segregation Patterns	303
Negative and Positive Impacts of Location	304
The Ethnic Kaleidoscope of Today	305
Immigration Legislation	305
Immigrant Patterns	306
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 11.2	308
Latino Migration and its Impact on Cities	310
Mexicans	312
Urbanization Trends	312
Cubans	313
Florida Concentration	313
Puerto Ricans	314
Spatial Patterns	314
Box 11.3	316
Latino Influences	319
Significant Aspects	319
New Asian Immigration	320
Urban Orientation and Some Models of Asian Segregation	321
Asian Indians	323
Box 11.4	324
Indochinese	326
Koreans	327
Asian Influences	328
Wrapping Up	329
Readings	331

PART V: The Political Landscape of the City

12 METROPOLITAN GOVERNANCE AND FRAGMENTATION 333

Urban Governance and the Growth of Services	334
---------------------------------------------	-----

Expanding Urban Services	334
Safety	335
Education	335
Infrastructure	335
Box 12.1	336
Financing the City	338
Who Governs the City?	340
Stages in Urban Governance	340
Elite Dominance	341
Machine Politics	341
Reform Politics	341
Professional Politics	342
Power in the City	342
Contemporary Fragmentation in the Metropolis	345
Increasing Fragmentation	345
A Positive View of Metropolitan Fragmentation	347
Fiscal Disparities	349
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 12.2	350
Countering the Fragmented Metropolis	353
Annexations	353
Elastic Cities	353
City-County Consolidation	356
Metropolitan Government	356
Box 12.3	357
Wrapping Up	358
Readings	358

13 PLANNING THE BETTER CITY 360

Making the Case for Planning	361
Aesthetics	361
Efficiency	362
Social Equity Planning	364
Maintaining Property Values	366
Environmental Protection	367
Development of Modern Planning	368

Visionaries and the Urban Ideal 368
 Ebenezer Howard and the Garden City
 Movement 368
 Le Corbusier's City of Towers 370
 Frank Lloyd Wright's Broadacre
 City 371
 Legal Basis for Planning 371
 Box 13.1 374
 Growth of Planning as a Profession
 in the United States 374
 Political Nature of Planning 377
 Box 13.2 379
 Comprehensive Plans and Tools of Modern
 Planning 380
 Elements and Steps in Comprehensive Plan
 Development 380
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 13.3 382
 Zoning 384
 Problems with Zoning
 and Responses 387
 Effect of Zoning on Community 387
 Exclusionary Zoning of Class and Race 390
 Growth Management 392
 Wrapping Up 393
 Readings 394

PART VI: Cities Around the World

14 CITIES IN THE DEVELOPED WORLD 395

Western European Cities 395
 Urbanization and the European City
 System 396
 Characteristic Features of European Cities 398
 Density and Compactness 398
 Historical Legacy 401
 Box 14.1 402

Box 14.2 406
 Housing and Social Geography 407
 Aspects of Change 410
 Changing Economic Circumstances 411
 Changes in the Political and Cultural
 Milieu 412
 Cities in Post-Communist Eastern Europe
 414
 Communist Urban Development 414
 Post-Communist Development 416
 Box 14.3 417
 Cities in Japan 418
 Structure of Japanese Cities 419
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 14.4 421
 Changes in Japanese Cities 422
 Wrapping Up 423
 Readings 423

15 CITIES IN THE LESS
 DEVELOPED WORLD 425

The New Urban Majority 426
 How the Cities Have Grown 426
 Demographic Factors Involved in Urban Growth 429
 Natural Increase 429
 Urbanization Curve 429
 Primacy 430
 Box 15.1 431
 Origins of Third World Urbanization
 432
 Modernization Perspective 433
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 15.2 435
 International Political Economy
 Perspective 435
 Colonialism 436
 Economic Disparity 438
 Urban Bias 440

Characteristics of Third World Cities

441
Effects of Growth	442
Housing	443
Public-Sector Housing	444
Box 15.3	446
Commercial Private-Sector Housing	447
Self-Help Housing	448
Employment Opportunities and the Informal Sector	449
Formal Sector	450
Informal Sector	451
Wrapping Up	452
Readings	453

16 REGIONAL VARIATIONS IN URBAN STRUCTURE AND FORM IN THE LESS DEVELOPED WORLD 455

The Latin American City	456
Colonial Legacies	457
Modern Latin American Cities	458
Themes of City Life	458
Spatial Layout	461
Sub-Saharan African Cities	463
Indigenous Influences	464
European Intervention	465

Box 16.1	466
Modern African Cities	468
South Asian Cities	469
A Typology of South Asian Cities	470
Modern Challenges	472
Technology and Urban Geography
Box 16.2	474
Southeast Asian Cities	476
Indigenous Influences: Sacred and Market Cities	477
The Colonial City in Southeast Asia	478
Locational Aspects	479
The Dualistic Form of the City	480
Chinese Population	480
Modern Cities	482
Problems of Development	482
Prosperity and Urban Form	483

Wrapping Up 484

Box 16.3 485

Box 16.4 486

Readings 486

INDEX 489

CREDITS 507

PHOTO CREDITS 511