

Contents

List of tables, figures and boxes	vi
Acknowledgements	viii
One	Setting the scene	1
Two	The role and importance of engagement and communication with children and young people	11
Three	Children and young people's views on what counts as effective engagement and communication with them	31
Four	Some theoretical perspectives on the nature of communication	49
Five	Knowing, being and doing: developing capability in direct work	65
Six	Appraising your capabilities and learning needs	85
Seven	A facilitating context for practice with children and young people	107
Eight	Involving and engaging children and young people in assessments	135
Nine	Observing children and making sense of their play and behaviour	161
Ten	Communicating with children and young people through play, activities and the expressive arts	185
Eleven	Relational communication as the heart of social work practice	209
References	237
Index	261	