

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	vii
Series Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xii
Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction	1
Works of choreography and contemporary dance	4
Choreography and performance	11
Choreographic performance after Deleuze: expressive concepts	14
Rupture of the body-movement bind	17
Performance beyond disappearance: making, performing, and attending	22
Structure and method	25
1 Problems and Expressive Concepts	28
Thought beyond recognition	31
The logic of expression	41
Problems and Ideas	46
Expressive concepts	54
Making, performing, and attending	62
2 Disjunctive Captures of the Body and Movement	73
Self Unfinished : part-bodies	75
It's In The Air : part-bodies, part-machines	83
Nvsbl : partitioning and adequation between movement and sensation	87
3 Theatrical Apparatuses of Disjunction	96
What is the apparatus of theatrical representation?	97
Subtractions within the theatrical apparatus	102
Head-box: an apparatus of flight and containment	105
De-figurement of the stage	114
Assemblings of bodies and things	117
Wiring spectators	120
4 Exhausting Improvisation: Stutterances	127
Improvisation in lack of philosophy	128

The holistic ground of improvisation	131
Still grounded in knowledge: improvisation as composition	138
Ungrounding possibilities	142
The Weak Dance of stutterances	148
To repeat and to rehearse	153
5 A Critical Departure from Emotionalism: Sensations and Affects in the Mode of Performing	160
Binding movement with emotion, kinesthesia with empathy	162
Affect and sensation in Spinoza and Deleuze	166
50/50 : the problem of composing affects	171
Constructing expressions	174
Defacing the self in a solo	184
Power-motion and crisis-motion	188
6 During and After Performance: Processes, Caesuras, and Resonances	195
Process in performance studies	196
Duration, process, and becoming	199
It's In The Air : processes of a constructed continuum	203
Composition as a distribution of intensities	206
Nvsbl : durations outside of the sensorimotor present	208
Molecularization and memory	211
Self Unfinished : caesuras in becoming	214
Cut-endings	218
Implicating the attender with resonance	220
A Post Hoc Conclusion: An Expanse of Choreography	225
Notes	232
Select Bibliography	238
Index	253