■ IN BRIEF 5 Justice Department uproar ● Sinn Fein wins in Ireland
■ AGENDA 6 MBS hosts G-20 ● Deere, Glencore, and Walmart report

■ REMARKS 8 China's epidemic claimed a prominent whistleblower. His death may challenge Xi Jinping's grip on power

1 BUSINESS
12 The Oslo team trying to stop the new coronavirus
13 With Boeing grounded, can Airbus seize the advantage?
15 Immigration + marriage = dream TV

2 TECHNOLOGY
17 YouTube sings Cocomelon's song, doo doo doo doo
19 Robot pizza makers seemed like such a good idea...

3 FINANCE
22 How much will the virus sicken China's economy?
23 The outbreak could further strain its stressed banks
25 Vanguard takes a stab at private equity

4 ECONOMICS
26 ▼ Maryland eyes different ways to fund schools

28 The world's assembly line falls silent
29 Will those rosy days of inflation ever return?

5 POLITICS
30 Guaidó has America's heart; Maduro prefers its dollar
31 The surprising problem of Ukraine's booming economy
32 Canada's had it with Chinese meddling
33 With Annegret out, Angela needs a successor again

+ STRATEGIES/ CAREERS
34 Perfect jobs for every personality
35 Keep a clear head during your career transition
37 Meet the lawyer who's vowed to end billable hours

■ PURSUITS
55 Stave's deluxe, handcrafted, utterly maddening puzzles
58 Opals may be your new best friend
60 Climbing Mount Everest without all that altitude sickness
62 A book Zuckerberg will love and hate
63 Put down your phone and pick up a pencil

■ LAST THING 64 The incredible shrinking household

CORRECTION

"BP Is Still Paying for the Deepwater Horizon Spill" (Last Thing, Feb. 10) referred to the Deepwater Horizon oil well. It was a drilling rig, not a well.

FEATURES

38 Little Loans, at 180% Interest
Tala and other lending apps offer Kenyans a way out of poverty—and into debt

44 P&G's Quest for Its Next Big Thing
The consumer-products giant tries a less-is-more approach

48 Making American Steel Great Again?
JSW Steel, a cheerleader for Trump's tariffs, is suing over them