

■ IN BRIEF	5	The Weinstein verdict ● Boeing orders ● Violence in India
■ AGENDA	6	It's Bernie's to lose ● U.K.-EU trade talks
■ REMARKS	8	Is there a metaphor for this scary financial moment?
1 BUSINESS	10	▼ The doctor is in—at Walmart

	12	China's shut-ins are ravenous for livestreaming
2 TECHNOLOGY	14	Google and other big tech companies are greening up—and getting somebody else to help pay for it
3 FINANCE	18 21	The little Reddit forum that's making Wall Street sweat ETrade gets bought, and independent brokers are history
4 ECONOMICS	22 23 25	Don't panic yet, but economists are thinking pandemic Boris bets big on the end of austerity An indigenous protest is pummeling Canadian industry
5 POLITICS	28 30 32	China expands state surveillance to track the coronavirus Trump, Huawei, and the unmooring of NATO A Colorado health plan may point the way for Democrats
■ PURSUITS	55 60 62 63	Running a spa is weirder than you ever imagined From shells to bubbles, hang-ups you'll want to have Greed tries, and fails, to lash out at greed MB&F's classy new way to watch the hours go by
■ LAST THING	64	SoftBank's problems aren't doing its rivals any favors

FEATURES

36

The Mega-Milkers

Factory farms are taking out family farms by the thousands

44

Print Lives!

The HP-Xerox battle shows there's life in the old ink-stained wretch

48

What's Really Closing Abortion Clinics

Legal challenges. Budget woes. Reluctant landlords. Protests