

CONTENTS

Ute Wallenböck, Jarmila Ptáčková, and Bianca Horlemann 9
Introduction. Dynamics of Power: Some Reflections on the Multiple Manifestations of Power in Amdo

Hannibal C. Taubes 13
The Four Forts of Repkong: A Tu Community between China, Tibet, and Mongolia, 1370–1730

Bianca Horlemann 51
Muslim Unrest in Amdo: The Rebellion of Ma Zhongying in 1928 and 1929

Hanung Kim 77
Preliminary Notes on Lamo Dechen Monastery and its Two Main Incarnation Lineages

Per Kværne 98
Hor btsun bstan 'dzin blo gros rgya mtsho (1889–1975):
A Little-known Bön Scholar from Amdo

Peter F. Faggen 107
Constructing a Mother's Authority: Legitimizing the Gungru
Female Reincarnate Lineage on the Amdo Grasslands

Ute Wallenböck 133
Gengya Drakkar (rGan gya brag dkar)—Its Significance as a Place of Pilgrimage and as Sacred Natural Site

Hugh Battye 159
Beyond Majority-Minority Relations in the Ethnic Dynamics of the Amdo Region: The “Huification” and “Tibetanization” of the Bonan Speakers of Gansu and Qinghai

Jarmila Ptáčková	187
Distributing Fish or Fishing Hooks? Examples of the Targeted Poverty Alleviation Program in Tibetan Pastoral Areas of Qinghai
Adrian Zenz	211
A Research Note on Recent Developments with Tibetan-Medium Tertiary Student Intakes and Degree Programs
Franz Xaver Erhard	221
The Representation of Power and Hegemony in Contemporary Fiction from Amdo: Tsering Döndrup's Novel Fog
Hiroyuki Suzuki and Sonam Wangmo	241
Migration History of Amdo-speaking Pastoralists in Lhagang, Khams Minyag, Based on Narratives and Linguistic Evidence
Contributors	261
Abstracts	264