

CONTENTS

List of Figures	ix
Introduction From Utopia to Propaganda and Back Maria Todorova	1
PART I:
RUPTURE AND THE ECONOMIES OF NOSTALGIA
1. From Algos to Autonomos: Nostalgic Eastern Europe as Postimperial Mania Dominic Boyer	17
2. Strange Bedfellows: Socialist Nostalgia and Neoliberalism in Bulgaria Gerald W. Creed	29
3. Today's Unseen Enthusiasm: Communist Nostalgia for Communism in the Socialist Humanist Brigadier Movement Cristofer Scarboro	46
4. Nostalgia for the JNA? Remembering the Army in the Former Yugoslavia Tanja Petrović	61
5. Dignity in Transition: History, Teachers, and the Nation-State in Post-1989 Bulgaria Tim Pilbrow	82
6. Invisible—Inaudible: Albanian Memories of Socialism after the War in Kosovo Stephanie Schwandner-Sievers	96
7. "Let's all freeze up until 2100 or so": Nostalgic Directions in Post-Communist Romania Oana Popescu-Sandu	113

PART II:
NOSTALGIC REALMS IN WORD, SOUND, AND SCREEN

8.	Sonic Nostalgia: Music, Memory, and Mythography in Bulgaria, 1990–2005 Donna A. Buchanan	129
9.	“Ceaușescu Hasn’t Died”: Irony as Counter-memory in Post-Socialist Romania Diana Georgescu	155
10.	Good Bye, Lenin! Aufwiedersehen GDR: On the Social Life of Socialism Daphne Berdahl	177
11.	“But it’s ours”: Nostalgia and the Politics of Authenticity in Post-Socialist Hungary Maya Nadkarni	190
12.	Looking Back to the Bright Future: Aleksandr Melikhov’s Red Zion Harriet Murav	215
13.	Dwelling on the Ruins of Socialist Yugoslavia: Being Bosnian by Remembering Tito Fedja Burić	227
14.	The Velvet Prison in Hindsight: Artistic Discourse in Hungary in the 1990s Anna Szemere	244
15.	Vacant History, Empty Screens: Post-Communist German Films of the 1990s Anke Pinkert	263
	Postscript Zsuzsa Gille	278
	Notes on Contributors	290
	Index	295