

Contents

List of Contributors

vii

Introduction

1

J. Adam Carter, Andy Clark, Jesper Kallestrup, S. Orestis Palermos, and Duncan Pritchard

Part I. Foundational Issues within Socially Extended Epistemology

1. How far can Extended Knowledge be Extended?: The Asymmetry between Research Teams and Artifacts 11
K. Brad Wray
2. Outsourcing Concepts: Social Externalism, the Extended Mind, and the Expansion of our Epistemic Capacity 24
Cathal O'Madagain
3. Representations and Robustly Collective Attitudes 36
Jeroen de Ridder
4. Mind Outside Brain: A Radically Non-Dualist Foundation for Distributed Cognition 59
Francis Heylighen and Shima Beigi
5. Practical Knowledge and Acting Together 87
Olle Blomberg
6. Group Know-How 112
S. Orestis Palermos and Deborah P. Tollefsen
7. Consensus as an Epistemic Norm for Group Acceptance 132
Joëlle Proust

Part II. Applications and New Directions

8. Socially Extended Moral Deliberation about Risks: A Role for Emotions and Art 157
Sabine Roeser
9. Thinking Together about Genocide: Socially Shared Cognition in Context 173
Holly Arrow and Alexander Garinther
10. Collective Amnesia and Epistemic Injustice 195
Alessandra Tanesini

11. The "Ontological Complicity" of Habitus and Field: Bourdieu as an Externalist Georg Theiner and Nikolaus Fogle	220
12. Mandevillian Intelligence: From Individual Vice to Collective Virtue Paul R. Smart	253
13. Solving the Frame Problem Socially Harry Halpin	275
Index	307

