

CONTENTS

I. Capacity Building

505 How Should Elected Members Learn Parliamentary Skills: An Overview
Ken Coghill, Colleen Lewis and Katrin Steinack

520 Effective Capacity Building: The Capacity to Do What?
Lord Norton of Louth

529 Building Parliamentary Human Capital
Ross Donohue and Peter Holland

II. Training and Development

541 Between Apathy and Enthusiasm: An International Comparison of MPs' Attitudes Towards Parliamentary Training
Katrin Steinack

559 A Fresh Start? The Orientation and Induction of New MPs at Westminster Following the 2010 General Election
Ruth Fox and Matt Korris

576 Return on Training Investment in Parliaments: The Need for Change in the Pacific Region
Abel Kinyondo

III. Practitioners' Observations

593 World Bank Institute's Approach to Parliamentary Capacity Strengthening
Mitchell O'Brien, Rick Stapenhurst and Brooke Prater

- 608 Assessment of the Levels of Knowledge, Skills and Abilities Held by Parliamentarians and the Determination of Training and Professional Development Needs—The Zambian Case
Elsie Simpamba
- 628 Assisting Parliamentarians to Develop Their Capacities: Experiences from Working in Indonesia and the South Pacific
Kevin Rozzoli

IV. Special Aspects of Training

Institute

- 640 Training for Elected Representatives in Vietnam: Context, Approach, Process
Lam Duc Nguyen
- 658 Developing a Parliamentary Institute: Case Study of the Pakistan Institute for Parliamentary Services
Khan Ahmad Goraya

Staff Role

- 672 Assisting Italian MPs in Pre-Legislative Scrutiny: The Role Played by Chambers' Counsellors and Legislative Advisors in Enhancing the Knowledge and Skills Development of Italian MPs: The Assistance Offered to an Autonomous Collection of Information
Giovanni Piccirilli and Paolo Zuddas

Women

- 688 Strengthening Women's Roles in Parliaments
Susan Markham

Media and Time Constraints

- 699 Barriers to Prioritising Education and Training for Parliamentarians: Role Complexity and the Media
Colleen Lewis