

Contents

Forbidden to Forbid?

The Ambiguous Heritage of the Sixties

- 11 Luc Devoldere
'Be Realistic. Demand the Impossible'
The Ambiguous Heritage of the Sixties
- 12 Geert Buelens
An Era of Early Globalisation
The 1960s in the Low Countries
- 24 Cyrille Offermans
The Search for Lost Authority
The 1960s – Again
- 34 Casper Thomas
Revolt of the Students
1969 versus 2015
- 42 Wim Chielens
Surviving Changing Times
The Singer-Songwriter Boudewijn de Groot
- 54 Beatrijs Ritsema
The Price of Freedom
On the Sexual Revolution
- 64 Marc Holthof
From Ice-Block Action to Peanut-Butter Floor
Belgian and Dutch Pop Art since the 1960s
- 74 Patrick Loobuyck
Church Bells Are Still Ringing. But the Minarets?
Secularisation in Flanders
- 82 Ger Groot
A Feverish Decade
The Religious Heritage of the 1960s in the Netherlands
- 90 Tom Christiaens
From Ownership to Usage
The 1960s' Legacy of the Sharing Economy

100 'Beneath the Paving Stones the Beach'

A Small Anthology from and about the Sixties

An Extract from Message to the Rat King

by Harry Mulisch

An Extract from Gangrene

by Jef Geeraerts

Poems from Breach IV

by Leonard Nolens

114 Lut Pil

The Importance of De Stijl

An International Unity in Life, Art and Culture (1917-2017)

124 Jeroen Dewulf

The Indo Author Tjalie Robinson

Pioneer of a Multiracial Identity in the American Sixties

134 Judith van der Wel

The Secret of the Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra

142 Geert van Istendael

Manneken Pis or The Subversion of a Water Pipe

150 Kees 't Hart

Characters in Search of an Author

Maria Stahlie's Engagement

158 Luc Devoldere

A Victorian 'Arbiter Elegantiae'

The Paintings of Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema

170 Marita Mathijssen

The Most Industrious of All Centuries

New Perspectives on the Nineteenth Century

178 Wim D'haveloose

A Wedding of Words

Sylvia Plath and Ted Hughes Revisited

186 Joris D'hooghe

On Duality and on Painting as Sculpture (and Sculpture as Painting)

The Visual Work of Lili Dujourie

194 Tomas Vanheste

The Bluebird of Ghent

One of Europe's Hidden Gems?

202 Jeroen Vullings

Fiction Is Always Non-Fiction

The Oeuvre of Jan Brokken

An Extract from De Kozakkentuin (The Cossack Garden)

by Jan Brokken

212 Dirk Leyman

What You See Is not What You Get

The Architectural Fiction of Filip Dujardin

220 Pieter Leroy

Managing Climate Change

Adopting a Macho or a Modest Approach?

228 Ilja Veldman

The Oldest Museum in the Netherlands

Arts and Sciences at Teylers in Haarlem

236 Elsbeth Etty

The Fierce Talent of an Unpolished Chronicler

Dimitri Verhulst's Prose

242 Tineke Reijnders

The National DNA

Boardroom Portraits by Taco Anema

250 Piet Chielens

Flanders Fields, 1917 – A Crucial Year

258 David Stroband

'Making the Personal Political'

Art by Hans van Houwelingen in the Public Domain

268 Philip Mosley

The Measure of Our Exile

On the City Essays of Guy Vaes

276 Dirk Leyman

Choreographer of Letters, Servant of Text, Illustrator

Gert Dooreman Fights Banality

Chronicle

Cultural Policy

286

Rudi Wester

Leeuwarden-Fryslân 2018

An Exceptional European Capital of Culture

Film

287

Jelle Schot

Longing for Perfection

The Red Turtle by Michael Dudok de Wit

289

Ivo De Kock

Breaking Free from Expected Patterns

Fien Troch

History

290

Reinier Salverda

Before She Became Mata Hari

Newly Discovered Letters by Margaretha Zelle

291

Karl van den Broeck

'The Only Friend of the Indians'

Restoring the Reputation of Father Pieter-Jan De Smet

Language

293

Luc Devoldere

500 Years Old

The 'Collegium Trilingue' in Leuven

Literature

295

Jane Fenoulhet

Occupied City

Paul van Oostaijen on the Map of Modernism

296

Maarten Delsing

Start Early and Keep Going

Flanders and the Netherlands at the Frankfurt Book Fair

297

Paul Binding

An Ingenious 'Exercice de Style'

The Evenings by Gerard Reve

299

Stefanie van Gemert

'Writing with Such Freshness and Agility'

A Well-Chosen Selection of Dutch Short Stories

Media

301

Rob Hartmans

From Weekly to Monthly

Vrij Nederland

Music

302

Emanuel Overbeeke

A Double Talent with a Double Personality

Jaap van Zweden

304

Dirk Van Assche

Jazz Legend 'Between a Smile and a Tear'

Toots Thielemans (1922-2016)

305

Dirk Steenhaut

A Modern Troubadour

Jozef van Wissem and His Lute

Religion

307

Guido Marnef

Lutherans in the Low Countries

Self-Imposed Thresholds and Calvinist Clout

Theatre

309

Jos Nijhof

A Theatre Icon from the Lowlands

International Appreciation for Ivo Van Hove

Visual Arts

311

Eric Rinckhout

Light and Balance

Museum Voorlinden

312

Ilja Veldman

Rocky Mountain Landscapes, Vast Distances and Mysterious Valleys

Hercules Segers and His 'Printed Paintings'

314

Gert Meesters

Olivier Schrauwen

The First True Internationalist of Flemish Comics

Next page:

The Sixties (Knack, 1988)

© GAL (Gerard Alsteens)

On page 112-113:

Models show 'Mondrian fashion' from Paris in the Gemeentemuseum Den Haag, 1966.

The dresses were designed by Yves Saint Laurent

Photo by Eric Koch © National Archief, Fotocollectie Anefo