

■ IN BRIEF	5	150,000 U.S. deaths ● Kodak does drugs ● A gold record
■ OPINION	6	China and Japan are still too in love with coal
■ AGENDA	6	Big Oil's future ● Roundup settlement ● Hiroshima Day
■ REMARKS	8	Taiwan looks like Xi's next target
1 BUSINESS	12	Covid cautiousness rewrites the script in Bollywood
	14	Can ESPN make the grade without college sports?
2 TECHNOLOGY	16	To sell more EVs, China's automakers think rural
	17	This car runs on electricity—and sunlight
	19	EVgo's Cathy Zoi on plug-in stations' bright future
3 FINANCE	20	What can money managers do about hedge fund fees?
	22	Index managers strategize as Tesla races toward the S&P
	24	Value investors try to snap a losing streak
	25	▼ Alan Patricof, a senior who sees a fortune in seniors

4 ECONOMICS	26	The far-reaching consequences of Americans who just don't want to have babies right now
5 POLITICS	30	Toppled statues, and how Trump is exploiting them
	32	The bar exam is stressful. So is having to show up for it
■ PURSUITS	52	Private aviation brings out the worst in people—and pets
	56	To every piece of furniture, turn, turn, turn
	58	Will this funky golf club scooter ever catch on?
	59	Sip your bedside whiskey in style with Nyht
■ LAST THING	60	In energy, smaller takeovers hit the jackpot

FEATURES

34

The Long Journey of Nelson Mandela's Golden Hands

An art collector's unique treasure hasn't been easy to sell

40

In Search of a Superhero

A blockbuster Japanese comic is ending. Its publisher needs a new one, fast

46

All Cup, No Coffee

Luckin wanted to be China's Starbucks. Then it faked the numbers